

Strong Pressure to Block Cuban Arms Shipments Urged

Some Allies Place Profits Above Other Interests, Humphrey Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — An ad-Hubert H. Humphrey, assistant administration Senate leader — Democratic leader — speaking against a backdrop of Soviet threats over Cuba — has urged Tuesday at the contention urged stronger pressure on U.S. of some Republicans that the allies to halt military and strategic build-up in Cuba is a threat to the United States. But, he said, it did threaten other Latin American nations and the United States should, not "sit idly by and watch the traffic in chains for Cuba."

"Plain Talking"

Secret Group Attacked Ships In Cuban Area

Machine Guns Used By Organization Opposed to Castro

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Alpha 66, a secret organization pledged to overthrow Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime, claims it carried out a machine gun attack on three vessels in Cuban waters, after the hit-and-run attack Monday. Alpha 66 said, its raiding party succeeded in turning back Castro helicopters following a 40-mile chase.

Members of Alpha 66, which has its headquarters in Puerto Rico, have not been identified, but one in Miami said five men made the raid.

2 Cuban Ships

In a communique signed "Alpha 66, Puerto Rico," the group said its men machine gunned two Cuban ships, the San Pascual and the San Blas, and a British freighter, the Newlane.

Havana sources, which claimed the marauder came from the United States, said the San Pascual and the Newlane were attacked, but did not mention the San Blas. No casualties were reported.

Refugee leaders in Miami said the raiding party sailed from Venezuela and a spokesman said there was no return fire from Castro forces.

The attack occurred about dawn at Cape Frances, a small key across from Caibarien, a major port about 210 miles southeast of Havana.

The Alpha 66 communique said the attack lasted 50 minutes and added: "Helicopters of the Castro regime pursued the Cubans for 40 miles on the high seas, the chase culminating in a naval battle in which the Communists quickly withdrew."

Kuehn, Wiley Win in GOP Governor, Senator Races

Value of GOP Machine Shown In Kuehn Race

Crossover Votes of Democrats Obvious In Renk's Totals

MADISON — The rulebook was vindicated again in the Wisconsin primary election.

Assumptions based on hard experience by which successful politicians live were proved in the nomination contests, although here and there by such narrow margins as to bring shivers to the professionals:

(1) Organization pays off, all other things being equal, as in the triumph of Philip Kuehn, the Republican regular over maverick Wilbur Renk, who made the most determined anti-organization bid in years in his challenge for leadership of the Republican Party.

(2) A familiar and recognizable name is often the most important asset of the candidate in a fight for a lower ranking office, as in the smashing defeat of Robert Marotz, the party organization favorite, by George Thompson, who made an indifferent cam-

Renk, Wollenberg Lose; Right Wing Now Controls Republican Party—Reynolds

BY DION HENDERSON

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A 42-year-old businessman who never has held public office and a 78-year-old veteran who has served Wisconsin longer in the Senate than any man in the state's history will lead the Republican ticket in the general election campaign.

And the campaign was underway before final returns were counted from Tuesday's primary, which gave Philip G. Kuehn the bitterly disputed GOP nomination for governor over Wilbur Renk, and nominated Sen. Alexander Wiley for an unprecedented fifth term by a four-to-one margin.

They will be opposed in November by Democratic Gov. Gaylord Nelson, bidding for Wiley's seat, and Atty. Gen. John W. Reynolds, who seeks to succeed Nelson. Both were unopposed Tuesday.

Almost before Renk had conceded Kuehn's victory, Reynolds issued a statement asserting that it meant "the major issue in this campaign is whether the fanatical right wing reactionaries who have seized control of the Republican party can now seize control of the state of Wisconsin."

Reynolds expressed personal disappointment over the defeat of Renk, who had assailed Kuehn during the last heated weeks of the primary over support of the endorsed candidate by the party's right wing.

However, at Sun Prairie early today, the 53-year-old farm operator who had refused to allow his name to be put before the convention that last May selected Kuehn for its standard bearer in a close contest with Lt. Gov. Warren Knowles, issued a state-

Marotz, Walstead Lose in Bid for Attorney General

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Two hand-picked party candidates for state office were whipped in primary balloting Tuesday by a Wisconsin electorate that maintained a tradition of doing as it pleases.

Republicans in sufficient number stood by the endorsed candidate for governor, Philip G. Kuehn of Whitefish Bay, but dumped Robert G. Marotz in his bid for the party nomination for attorney general.

Democrats ignored the recommendation of Atty. Gen. John W. Reynolds, their unopposed candidate for governor, and rejected the Elliot N. Walstead, the deputy attorney general Reynolds had tapped to succeed him.

Marotz was bypassed for George Thompson of La Crosse, the party candidate in 1960. Walstead lost to William H. Evans of Milwaukee.

Heinritz 28-Vote Victor Over Broehm

Sheriff Race in Doubt Until Official Canvass; Else Says He Will Run as Independent

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Outagamie County Undersheriff Donald J. Heinritz Tuesday apparently won the Republican nomination in his bid for his brother's job when he edged City Clerk Elden Broehm by 28 votes in what may be the closest primary race in county history.

The closeness of the race prompted speculation that Broehm or Traffic Sgt. George Else may become an independent candidate for sheriff in the November election.

"In view of the returns, it is obvious the voters of our county want a change . . . but I can only say that I myself do not know what my next move will be."

Broehm said today he plans no action on a recount until after the canvassing board meets and approves the final figures.

Broehm also said he has not dismissed the possibility of running as an independent candidate.

Heinritz, who was elected sheriff in 1954 and 1956 and was appointed undersheriff by his brother, Robert, in 1958, survived a late surge by Broehm with votes from Hortonville, Greenville and the Town of Black Creek to win.

Nearly 18,000 Cast Ballots In County

Nearly 18,000 Outagamie County voters went to the polls for Tuesday's primary election, according to an unofficial count.

The estimate is based on the sheriff's race, which drew more votes than even the contest for governor.

A total of 17,602 votes were cast for the five sheriff candidates, while four governor hopefuls got a total of 17,400.

The first of the county's 56 precincts to report its election results was Deer Creek, at 7:11 p.m.

Last to report was the village of Black Creek, at 12:26 a.m. today. The town board had its regular meeting before the ballots were counted. Then the election clerk of that house, had to whip board representative had to find two fellow Republicans to gain a telephone to call in the results.

There is no phone in the town hall.

Priebe Upset in Bid for Assembly

Froehlich Wins Republican Nod; No Surprises in Area County Races

In an anticipated upset, Harold V. Froehlich, 1036 W. Grant St., Appleton, won the Republican nomination Tuesday for the assembly, outdistancing Kenneth E. Priebe, 1260 S. Ritter St.

The Froehlich-Priebe upset was the only one in the Fox Cities region. Contests in Winnebago, Calumet, Waupaca and Shawano Counties went as expected. Incumbents in those counties were re-nominated: Towns of Grand Chute and Caledonia, except in Calumet where G. ter. J. Hipke did not seek reelection.

Political prophets, mindful of the intensive campaign efforts of Froehlich, had predicted that an upset would not be surprising.

Froehlich polled 5,327 votes to Priebe's 4,732 in the unofficial vote tabulation.

Priebe, a former Appleton alderman, was seeking his third term in the assembly.

Rogers Wins

William Rogers, Kaukauna Alderman, won the Democratic nomination for the county's Second District assembly seat by defeating two opponents. He received 939 votes.

His opponents, Arnold J. Vanderloop and Fred J. Reichel, received 819 and 448 votes, respectively.

Strike Threat Of Aerospace Firms Grows

White House Plan Calls for Union Shops at Plants

WASHINGTON (AP)—The gravity of strike threats against major aerospace producers appeared to deepen today in the wake of a White House settlement plan calling for adoption of a union shop.

The four firms involved—Lockheed, Convair, North American and Ryan—clearly were balking at the plan, particularly the union shop requirement that would compel all their more than 100,000 workers to be union members.

Time was running out with a no-strike pledge given President Kennedy by the AFL-CIO auto-workers and machinists unions due to expire on Sept. 22.

New York City Smallpox Scare Unfounded

NEW YORK (AP)—New York's third smallpox scare in a month appeared today to be unfounded. Illness of a newly arrived student from Tanganyika, at first suspected as possible smallpox, was diagnosed as probably chickenpox.

However, further tests were being conducted.

The student, Benjamin Mkapa, 24, arrived Wednesday at Idlewild Airport from London and took a taxicab to International House, a residence for foreign and American students.

He became ill and was taken to a hospital.

City health officials ordered 500 residents of International House vaccinated as a precaution.

Space Race Called Means to Security

President Believes Nation's Conscience Requires It Lead Free World's Drive

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—President Kennedy said today the nation's conscience requires it to lead the world's drive into space. He said peace and security hang in the balance.

Kennedy demanded a "bold and daring and unflinching" effort to land a man on the moon—a goal he has set for this decade.

"We cannot shrink from it now," the President said in a speech prepared for delivery at Rice University Stadium.

The United States, he said, must become "the world's leading spacefaring nation."

Homeward Leg

Starting the homeward leg of his two-day survey of space facilities, Kennedy said his administration commands bipartisan support in seeking world leadership.

"We are pledged to make it a reality," he said.

Kennedy said the United States is entering a new age of exploration and claimed genuine progress.

Forty of the 45 satellites which have circled the globe during his time in office have been made in this country and they "supplied far more knowledge to the people of the world than those of the Soviet Union," he said.

Windsors Will Sell Home Near Paris

Chicago Daily News Service

PARIS — Like many wealthy European socialites, the Duke and Duchess of Windsor are moving south, to Spain.

Their many friends here say that they have decided to sell their country house at Gif-sur-Yvette, a few miles west of here, and buy "something" on the elegant beach of Torremolinos in southern Spain.

The Windsors are not entirely giving up their Parisian life. They are keeping their private house in the Bois De Boulogne and will continue to come here every spring and summer. The Duchess usually attends the fashion shows in July. She has so many Parisian friends and art shows to see that she needs at least three months in Paris every year.

They are giving up their place at Gif with its beautiful gardens because, being next to a river, it is considered too humid.

Another inconvenience at Gif is that it is too close to Paris and there, the Windsors entertain and see the same people as in their residence in town.

British Plans To Join Market Face Opposition

Commonwealth Heads Against Terms Of European Link-Up

LONDON (AP)—A major crisis loomed today for Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Conservative government after a concerted Commonwealth revolt against Macmillan's plan to join the European Common Market.

Statesmen of at least five countries lined up to back the massive assault loosed Tuesday by eight of their fellow leaders against the prospective terms of Britain's linkup with the six-nation continental bloc.

Two Countries

Only the delegates from Malaya and Cyprus were believed likely to withhold outright censure of Macmillan's policy.

In the face of the demonstrations of overwhelming anxiety, Macmillan ran the risk of imperiling his government if he presses on with his plan.

The British leader has pledged he will take Britain into the European trading and political community only after winning safeguards for the economic interests of his Commonwealth partners.

But almost to a man the leaders of Canada, Pakistan, Ceylon, New Zealand, India, Ghana, Sierra Leone and Australia denounced as unsatisfactory the safeguards negotiated so far.

Other Aspects

They also criticized other aspects of the projected arrangements.

National Cultural Center Nears Fact

Jacqueline Kennedy Unveils Model of $30 Million Project

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy departed today for the White House, where she will unveil a model of a $30-million national cultural center for Washington.

She said people from all over the country, who come to Washington as tourists, will profit by this marble and glass center for the arts on the banks of the Potomac.

The design, by famed Arkansas-born architect Edward Durrell Stone, made its debut Tuesday amid the ballroom splendor of the "Elms," a coal magnate's mansion now a museum and relic of a bygone era of Newport society.

From 35 Cities

Because Mrs. Kennedy, honorary co-chairman of the center, is on an extended vacation here, the trustees, an advisory committee, backers and artists—some 300 strong—made the trek to off-season Newport.

They came from 35 cities across the country for their first meeting, to see Mrs. Kennedy, the cen-

Says U. S. Can Expect Threats

John Byrnes States He's More Concerned With Soviet Actions

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — The United States "can expect Russian threats whenever anyone suggests that we move to protect our own interests in the face of Russian provocation," Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., said today.

Referring to the Russian threat of retaliation through world-wide atomic warfare if the United States becomes an "aggressor" against Cuba, Byrnes said he was "more concerned about Russian actions, such as violations of the Monroe Doctrine, than in their threats."

"The real question is whether we will back away after every such threat," the Wisconsin congressman said. "If we do that, there is no end in sight except complete communist domination of the world."

Byrnes was one of the first House members last year to inspect both the Eastern and Western sectors of Berlin shortly after the dividing wall had been erected.

At that time, he commented that he could see no reason why Western allies could not have torn the wall down as quickly as the East Germans erected it.

Things of the spirit as well as things political.

President and Mrs. Kennedy had a long preview look at the center model here on Sunday and officials said both approved Stone's concept of the center in a 13-acre river front park setting.

They said Kennedy wanted to make sure it would not detract from the nearby Lincoln Memorial and was assured the center and viewed it as a symbol of Washington's commitment to the monument.

U Thant Loves U. N.; Doesn't Relish Fame

BY MILT FREUDENHEIM

Chicago Daily News Service

UNITED NATIONS—Acting Sec. Gen. U Thant seems certain to be elected to five more years of what many term "the loneliest job in the world."

The soft-spoken, cheroot-smoking Burma diplomat has become a world figure in the 10 months since he was named to finish out the term of the late Dag Hammarskjold, who died in an African plane crash.

Thant loves the United Nations and his role in helping the attempt to maintain peace, but he does not relish the by-products of fame.

No Vacation

Annoyances ranging from crank letters threatening his life to a widely publicized battle with his landlord have accompanied the job.

Aides who keep tabs on his schedule say he has not had a day of vacation since changing from Burma ambassador to the top U.N. post.

Thant often has told friends he would prefer a life of writing and teaching at universities, if personal choice could rule.

Little Time for Quiet

The demands of his job leave little time for the quiet contemplation valued so highly in the Buddhist faith of the 53-year-old diplomat.

On the favorable side, he has enjoyed warm personal encounters with President Kennedy, French President Charles De Gaulle, Khrushchev and other world leaders.

Thant has less than a year in the secretary general's office and undoubtedly will "settle in" the job, with all its assets and liabilities, as time wears away its newness.

Wonders Out Loud

To friendly ambassadors he sees often, Thant has been known to wonder out loud why he should seek five more years in office.

His most compelling reason apparently is the lack of other candidates acceptable to Moscow, Washington and other powerful U.N. groupings.

From the U.N. viewpoint, the southern tip of the Sea of Galilee, an Israel military spokesman once modestly commented, "this is the tragedy of the situation."

New Hampshire GOP Primary Highlights Elections in 9 States

Republicans Veto Governor's Chances to Run for Third Term

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In a slambang primary, New Hampshire Republicans have vetoed Gov. Wesley Powell's bid for a third term and Rep. Perkins Bass claimed the GOP Senate nomination in a four-way race that went to the wire.

It was a tempestuous one of the wildest political campaigns in the state's history and was the most eye-catching of the primaries in nine states Tuesday.

Top Prizes

Powell's shot at renomination was cut off by John Pillsbury, a former utility executive, who will run in November against John W. King, Democratic leader of the New Hampshire House.

Among the top prizes at stake were party nominations for eight Senate seats, six governorships and 39 places in the House.

Contest Over Nomination

But it was the New Hampshire Senate scramble that caught fire. Unofficial figures had Bass squeezing by Dolores Bridges, widow of the late Sen. Styles Bridges. The contest was over the nomination for the last four years of her husband's term.

Minnesota also turned out a high-voltage contest as 24-year congressional veteran H. Carl Andersen was apparently beaten in

Zoo Tries to Give Away Lion Cub

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP) — This city's zoo has a spotted lion cub on its hands, and can't give it away.

Duffy, a 100-pound cub, was the star of Miller Park's baby animal circus. But the little lion was petted and pampered so much that he couldn't make the transition to an adult role.

The park, faced with another $700 annual meat bill required for adult lions, offered Duffy free to any resident. There were no takers.

A wild-animal dealer offered to take the cub, but changed his mind when he saw Duffy. He said the cub was a "spoiled slob."

Park Superintendent Grover Kathhoefer said any city, village, organization or individual wanting a spoiled lion cub is welcome to Duffy.

New York Minimum Wage Set at $1.25

NEW YORK (AP) — The City Council approved a bill Tuesday requiring all businesses in the city to pay a minimum wage of $1.25 an hour. The minimum will rise to $1.50 next year.

The bill will affect about 180,000 workers. It was backed by Democrats headed by Mayor Robert F. Wagner and hotly opposed by some business leaders, who claim it would drive business from the city and result in loss of jobs.

Handwriting on the Wall

The city-suburb problem in the Greater Green Bay area is rapidly coming to a head and what is happening there will be of great interest in the Fox Cities and other metropolitan centers of the state.

The town of Preble, which is a community of over 10,000 lying just east of the city of Green Bay, was recently blocked from incorporating as a fourth class city when the state planner ruled against such a move. As a result the town board has now set up an advisory referendum in November which, if approved, would authorize the board to enter into consolidation discussions with Green Bay.

Now the town of Allouez, with about 8,000 population lying just south of Green Bay on the east side of the Fox River, is discussing what the future holds for that municipality.

Allouez Town Chairman Roland Strid last week called for the urban municipalities to study the possibility of metropolitan government for the Greater Green Bay area. He mentioned the possibility of city or village government for the township but discarded both those ideas as undesirable.

The Green Bay Press-Gazette has supported in general the proposal that a study of the metropolitan form of government for an urban complex like Green Bay would be valuable. But it suggests that such a development in Wisconsin may be a long time coming since state law does not now provide for such a form of municipal government. The newspaper also suggests that both annexation and consolidation are possible now and that Allouez might do well to explore both as an interim step.

A significant factor in Strid's proposal was the obvious fact that he made a detailed study of how metropolitan government operates in other jurisdictions like Greater Miami and Toronto. He outlined his own ideas of how it might operate in Green Bay. He also suggested that the study might be a proper one for the newly organized regional planning commission in Brown County, of which he is a member.

Experts have suggested in the past that the traditional enmities which frequently block discussions of amalgamation between suburban townships and core cities will disappear when the suburbs grow to the extent that it becomes as expensive for them to furnish the municipal services demanded by their residents as it is for cities to furnish those services.

This situation either has been reached in the suburbs of Preble and Allouez or is near at hand. Township officials in each are now about ready to sit down with Green Bay and explore possible solutions. And when they do they will be inscribing handwriting on the wall for other such communities in Wisconsin.

e. e. cummings

When e. e. cummings died early this month the world was no longer shocked at his peculiar style of writing or that he even preferred to have his own name written without capitals. Poetry readers have accepted the notion that ideas may be expressed in new forms.

Actually much of cummings' poetry, and perhaps all of it, was rigidly disciplined. His sonnets, for instance, scrupulously followed rhyme patterns and metre. But his insistence upon unorthodox punctuation and breaking words and sentences in the middle upset his early readers. Some of his poetry may be unintelligible to readers but this has happened to the most orthodox of poets.

America's Power System

The United States with one-sixteenth of the world's population has one-third of the world's power capacity. The total electric power capacity of the United States is 174,998,000 kilowatts. This is more than the total capacity for Russia, Great Britain, West Germany, Canada, and Japan.

This information is given in a small booklet published by the Investor-Owned Electric Utility Industry. It points out that more than three-fourths of the power plant capacity in the United States is furnished by some 400 investor-owned companies. The remainder of the capacity is furnished by government-financed power suppliers. Approximately 300 companies pool their resources with one another in order to provide good service, efficiency and at a reasonable price to the public. An example of how the pooling operates is supplied by 12 companies supplying electric power in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland. They have a total capacity of 15 million kilowatts in an area of about 48,000 square miles and serve a population of 19 million persons.

One of the interesting facts about the American power system is its growth. The booklet shows this development in a series of maps beginning with 1908 when the lines were few and far between, following along successively through the years until the lines upon the map in the Eastern part of the United States extending out possibly to the Mississippi River and slightly beyond are so cluttered with lines as to appear almost black. The lines correspond almost exactly with the development of the population of the nation. In the beginning there were but few small power plants serving individual communities. Later on, development of transmission lines permitted the replacement of the small plants with a large central station serving many communities. Then as the power companies began interconnecting their lines giant power pools were developed which today supply power for all of the needs of the particular area in which the companies have pooled their resources.

The growth of the net production of electric energy in the United States has averaged about 7.15 per cent compounded per year. The growth during the post-war years has been at an average rate of 8.6

per cent. This, the booklet points out, is about two and a half times the rate of growth of the whole economy as measured by the gross national product. The booklet points out that the transmission lines and power capacities follow the population densities closely. However, the power plant and transmission capability has always remained ahead of the demand for electricity.

The investor-owned utility companies have invested $46 billion in power facilities. The money for this purpose has come from the people's savings. In order to attract such investments of course it is necessary for the utilities to offer a rate of return comparable to that offered by other companies with similar risks. The utility industry has been spending about $3.2 billion per year for new plant and equipment. This is about 10 per cent of the new construction for all American business.

The United States with a total area of 3,022,387 square miles has a total of 304,000 miles of transmission lines. Russia on the other hand with an area of 8,607,553 square miles has only 62,000 miles of transmission lines.

Thus America with about one-third of the area of Russia has about five times the miles of transmission lines. Production of electricity per capita in the USA is about three times that of the USSR. And since the United States is building at an increasing capacity Russia will fall farther behind in the immediate future. The American home uses about eight times the electricity of the Russian home and Americans use twice as much for lighting as the Russians do.

There are approximately $46 billion invested in electrical plants and facilities at the moment. It is estimated that by 1970 there will be an investment of $88 billion and by 1980, $168 billion will be invested. Since the increases in electrical production capacity usually coincide with the increases in population and business development, the outlook for business in America is bright indeed.

It should be noted that America's favorable position is due to the free enterprise system. Its continued expansion can be expected so long as this system is preserved.

The Human Element

Ever hear of a human engineer? No, he isn't an engineer who is a human being, he's an engineer who studies the compatibility of men and machines.

A human engineer recently warned that in a missile to be fired at Cape Canaveral certain electrical plugs could fit more than one socket, that the missile would not work if they were misplaced, and that the chance of human error was thus increased.

This $2,000,000 missile failed in launching, the engineer has reported, and presumably this was the cause. In fact he reported to a convention of the American Psychological Association that human error is responsible for as many as 50 per cent of the failures or malfunctions in missiles and aircraft.

Obviously steps must be taken in the future to reduce to a minimum the possibility of human error. But it is somewhat reassuring to us human beings in this electronic age that mere man is still vitally important.

Every Man, Woman and Child In Nation Has Debt of $5,815

BY ROBERT S. BOYD

WASHINGTON — This country is floating on a rising river of debt.

The flood of red ink — public and private — has passed the trillion-dollar mark, treasury figures show.

Last Dec. 31, Americans owed each other $1,058 trillion (one trillion, 58 billion).

That's $5,815 in debt for every man, woman and child in the nation.

It would take all the earnings of American workers and businesses for more than two years to pay it off.

The federal government is responsible for about 30 per cent of the debt — $300 billion.

American business owns 38 per cent — $380 billion.

Private citizens owe 31 per cent — $307 billion.

And state and local governments owe the rest — $75 billion.

Slowest Growing

The federal debt is growing slowest of all, according to treasury statistics.

In the 15 years since 1946, after World War II, the federal debt has risen by 15 per cent. State and local government debt has quadrupled. Corporate debt has tripled. And private debt has multiplied five times.

Consumer credit is the sector of the debt that is advancing the fastest. It's up 6 1/2 times since 1946.

Government debt, however, is the one people gripe about the most.

Local and state governments, which usually can't borrow money without a vote of the people, are facing more frequent "tax revolts" at the polls.

Congress put the Kennedy administration through the wringer before okaying an increase in the federal debt ceiling this summer.

Sen. Byrd Critical

Some politicians, like Sen. Harry Byrd (D-Va.), chairman of the senate finance committee, say the federal debt is ruining the country.

Byrd blames the mounting debt for shrinking the value of the dollar from 100 cents in 1939 to 46 cents last year.

He also notes that interest on the federal debt is costing $9 billion this year. A dime out of every dollar you pay in taxes goes for interest.

Other politicians, like Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.), say the debt is big but not too big to handle.

In terms of our expanding population, the federal debt has shrunk. In 1946, Uncle Sam owed $1,790 per person; in 1961, the federal debt was down to $1,648 per person.

Reader Writes Kennedy About Railroad Strike

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Please publish the following letter which I have addressed to President Kennedy:

John F. Kennedy, President United States of America White House Washington, D. C. Dear Sir,

How can you, in good conscience permit the Chicago & Northwestern R.R. strike to continue. This third or fourth largest railroad in the country is critical to national defense and is critical to the economy of this area. You stamp'd on the steel industry a few months ago. Why are you shilly-shallying now? Allow me to remind you that the feather-bedding practices of the railroad unions are reflected in railroad freight rates, and that these rates are eventually built into our cost of doing business overseas. Doesn't this also, as you said in the steel case, tend to price us out of foreign markets? And please remember that if they don't buy from us, they may buy from behind the Iron Curtain.

Understandably the votes of the strikers exceed the votes of steel industry management, but as your Profiles in Courage pointed out, there have been some men who were able to rise above politics.

Sincerely, Leonard E. Dale 20 Foster Court Appleton, Wisconsin

Potomac Fever — by Fletcher Knebel

The Kennedy Administration is not without its critics, but even Republicans admit that it turns in a terrific performance on week ends.

The White House says the new Russian missiles in Cuba have a "slant range" of only 25 miles. Co there's nothing to worry about. We'll just have all our plans fly on the bias.

Modern classroom ballad: School days, school days, dear old molecule days. Physics and fission, psychology, taught on the screen of the class TV.

Internal Revenue rules that payola is not tax deductible. It's just straight income. Well, income anyway.

We're matching the Russians, move for move. Every new shipload of arms they land in Cuba, the State Department counters with a withering white paper.

Teddy Kennedy and Eddy McCormack debate again. Massachusetts can't host with these two handsome young men. One may go off to Washington — and the other to Hollywood.

National Study Shows Wisconsin Rates Badly In Property Taxation

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Probably with an eye upon the elections and the sensitivity of principal state office candidates to popular issues, the League of Wisconsin Municipalities currently provides prominent publicity for a national survey of the comparative weight of property taxation in governmental financing.

Wyngaard

And as might be expected, the comparison is an unfavorable one for Wisconsin. It will provide fuel for those who feel that the whole Wisconsin state-local finance system must be revised and that the unfair burden of the property tax upon the average man provides one of the legitimate incentives.

The League article provides an illuminating tabulation on the ratio of property tax contributions to the total of state and local taxes paid in the states of the country. Wisconsin ranks very poorly, with nearly 53 per cent. That is the 14th highest ratio in the country. More than a third of the states of the country have a ratio of property taxes to all taxes of less than 40 per cent. It is worth a passing note, at least, that some of them are states with which Wisconsin is in earnest economic competition for industrial development, such as those in the South.

The figures cited are for 1960. Because Wisconsin has made a start toward tax policy revision in the increases in the personal income tax and the inauguration of the selective sales tax adopted by the legislature a year ago, it is possible that the comparisons are not literally valid today. Yet the increases in property taxation in this state have been substantial during the last year, so that there is a fair chance, at the least, that the state's comparative position in the ranking of states has not changed significantly.

Moreover, the local government bonded debt total in this state is rising so rapidly, under the crushing demands for new capital expenditures for schools and other purposes, that the future property tax liability looks bleak, rather than good, in spite of the tentative gestures toward tax revision reluctantly made by the state government during the last year.

The League is an association of local government administrations, men in city and village councils and in the mayoral offices of Wisconsin who are most familiar with the increasing voter awareness of the property tax burden. The number of home owners in the country—and presumably in Wisconsin also—has doubled during the last 20 years. Especially in the larger cities of Wisconsin, the tax liability upon those homes is heavy. Electoral reaction is inevitable, and especially since the property tax bite is now the most painful for the average family to finance. Other basic governmental revenues, state and federal, are collected in comparatively painless chunks through the pay check deduction device.

HOW TO DO IT

Sympathy for the cause of property tax relief falls easily from the lips of the typical Wisconsin office-seeker. There are proposals for more school aids, for example, from the state treasury, and other goodies from Madison. The legislature in recent years, indeed, has successively increased aids for a variety of local services—in amounts that would have been astonishing a decade or two ago. Yet the result has not been relief, in the state as a whole, but merely a stabilization of the local tax rate, at best, and often only a slowing of the annual rate of increase.

Significant relief of local property tax rates, and especially in the growing cities, cannot be attained without wholesale revision of the state tax base. It will require revenue in hundred million dollar chunks—beyond the huge increases in demands for existing public services. One of the difficulties in the various educational efforts on behalf of tax revision is that they have not yet communicated the imminency of the task.

Increase of Coins

DENVER (AP) — The U. S. Mint in Denver stamped out more coins in the fiscal year ending June 30 than ever before — 2,546,634,142 of them.

This was 430 million more than in the 1960-61 fiscal year. Pennies, nickels, dimes, quarters and half dollars were minted during the year. But no silver dollars.

Crescent Hammers Its Point

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Sept. 13, 1862.

We have before alluded to the necessity of the Democracy (Democrat Party) nominating a good man for Representative in the coming contest. The necessity is now doubly augmented in the consequence of our (Republican) opponents presenting such a miasmatic spectacle as they have by nominating Ethiopian Loving Brown—a man who is admitted to be totally unfit for Congressman by Republicans as well as Democrats.

If we have no man in the Fifth District more fitted for Congressional honors than Wau-paca Brown, then we say let the district be unrepresented.

We have heard mentioned in connection with the Democratic nomination the names of Charles D. Robinson, John Fitzgerald, Judge Wheeler of Berlin, H.S. Pierpont of Manitowoc and Col. Gabriel Bouck. Some of these gentlemen we are personally acquainted with and know them to be men of ability, integrity and honor.

We want no shoddy man—no man of equivocal character or tarnished reputation. We want a man of Constitution and Union loving sentiments, with marked ability and unsullied name.

Such a man is Charles D. Robinson, who has returned home on account of illness contracted on behalf of the cause of the Union. The Congressional mantle cannot fall on more worthy shoulders. Old Outagamie will speak for him in a majority of 600, if he is nominated.

Wednesday, Sept. 8, 1937.

Miss Mildred Wildenberg was elected president of Our Lady Sodality of St. John Church, Little Chute. Other officers included Miss Barbara Lucassen, vice president, Marion Schumacher, treasurer, and Agnes Heesacker, secretary.

Miss Genevieve Kromschneider, Appleton, physical education instructor at Roosevelt Junior High School, had recently completed a 700-mile canoe trip with a companion, Miss LaNore Morehouse, LaCrosse, paddling the Mississippi River from Lake Itasca, Minn., to LaCrosse.

Members of the Dale Baseball team, top contenders for the Outagamie County League pennant, included Albert Oelke, Gordon Cross, Dan Meshnik, Melvin Glocke, Orville Hawk, Les McHugh, Frank Tilly, Walter Kaufman, Milton Schultz, Lawrence Gilkey, manager, and mascot Gale Bock. Dale and Shiocton were tied for first round honors and were to meet for a playoff Sept. 18.

Baker Dale Campbell, 4, won first prize in the New London Labor Day parade for the most elaborately decorated tricycle. He pedaled the entire parade route with his dog Barney in the basket.

Three New London boys who began their studies at the Salvatorian Seminary at St. Nazianz were Roy Crain, Russell Jagoditsch and Richard McDaniel.

The 1952-1953 season of Hadasah opened with a membership tea at Moses Montefiore Social Center. In charge of the event were Mrs. William L. Chudacoff and Mrs. Louis Blum.

Gerald Lorge, Bear Creek, won the Republican nomination as Outagamie County second district assemblyman over William Rohan, Kaukauna.

reported, Heinritz held a margin of 180 votes. Else carried Hortonville, but the village voters gave Broehm a 49-26 edge over Heinritz to close the gap.

Cut Margin

Greenville voters, a few minutes later, narrowed the margin to 39 votes with a 137-32 margin for Broehm.

The final tabulations from the town of Black Creek were not reported until 15 minutes later at almost 12:30 a.m. Broehm outpolled Heinritz, 27 to 16, to cut the final margin to 28 votes.

"I've never been so shaky in my life," Heinritz said soon after learning of his narrow victory. "I figured it might be a couple of hundred votes, but I never figured it would be that close."

"I shed a few tears," Heinritz admitted. "I appreciate the way the people helped me. I couldn't do this alone. I want to thank everyone who got out and voted. It looks like a tough race again in November and I expect 100 per cent backing from the Republican party and am sure I'll deny the Wisconsin electorate and probably, the uneasiness of thousands of former La Follette progressives in the Democratic Party."

Heinritz Leads

Broehm, who has been Appleton city clerk since 1955, polled a few less votes than Heinritz in the city's precincts. Heinritz had 3,517 votes to Broehm's 3,495. Heinritz received 1,477 votes from the county-at-large to Broehm's surprisingly strong showing of 1,471. Else received 2,480 votes in the city, and polled 1,922 votes in the rest of the county.

Democrat Spice, with heavy backing in Kaukauna, his home town, received 1,947 of his 2,600 votes from the county outside of Appleton and Kelly received 329 out-of-city votes.

Broehm and Heinritz stood toe-to-toe when the returns started pouring in from Appleton. Else had led briefly in early rural returns.

Broehm's major strength in the city was marked in the First, Third, Fifth, 14th, 16th and 19th wards, where he outpolled Heinritz by a total of 238 votes. Heinritz was strong in the Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, 10th, and 11th wards, polling a total of 275 votes over Broehm.

Incumbent County Clerk Miss Mollie Pfeiffer, who has served in that position since 1955 when she was appointed, defeated Republican newcomer Edwin F. Schueler in the Republican primary race, 10,554 to 3,070.

Unopposed Democrat Clerk nominee John A. Brown received 2,626 votes and will face Miss Pfeiffer in the November bid for election.

Uncontested Posts

Other county offices were uncontested. Republican incumbent Raymond A. Bentz, incumbent Re-Bernard H. Kemps received 11,899 votes for coroner to 2,454 for that position, received his Democrat opponent, Donald loyalists, the party organization who had made a direct appeal standards were unable to make of such backing and in spite of their wishes stick with respect to party nominations, as shown by the rejection of Deputy Attorney General Walstead as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for attorney general and the choice of William Evans of Milwaukee. That result illuminated again the value of a familiar name in the view of the Democratic Party professionals.

The nomination of Kuehn over Renk in the most vigorous fight for the top nomination in the Republican party in a decade was a satisfying one to the Republican voluntary organization and its basically conservative elements.

A Kuehn defeat, although the threat obviously came from Democrats crossing over into the Republican primary, would have given Renk the leverage he wanted for the transformation of the party and the modification of some of its view points and what he called its "image."

Renk's defeat, conversely, means that there may be a contest in Wisconsin for delegates to the national Republican presidential nominating convention two years hence. As Governor, Renk would have paved the way for an easy capture of the Wisconsin primary election in the spring of 1964 by the Nelson Rockefeller camp.

Kuehn's leadership of the party will mean a course of neutrality, at the least, and may offer some comfort to the partisans of Richard Nixon in the center and Barry Goldwater on the right.

Kuehn Hard Driver

The Kuehn victory in a hard fight, following his cool defeat of popular Lt. Warren Knowles in the Republican convention last May, suggests that the new titular leader of the party is one of the hardest driving and determined nominees of recent times.

Kuehn regarded his primary battle as more difficult and doubtful than his election in November over Atty. General John W. Reynolds, the Democrat.

The trailing position of the Democratic candidates, most of them unopposed for their nominations is not particularly important in assessing the November voting outlook, according to the past political behavior of the state.

Democratic managers had predicted that the Republican vote would be far heavier than theirs, on the basis of past performances, as a way to reduce the publicity impact of the contrast.

sure of support by Renk—"a through gentleman and a through Republican"—in view of the primary's outcome, and said, "The efforts of Mr. Reynolds to divide the Republican party will fall on deaf ears."

"The people of Wisconsin," Kuehn said, "can rest assured that the party, including Mr. Renk, Mr. Reynolds and myself, is united to achieve a Republican victory and the kind of aggressive, constructive leadership that will not be motivated by political expediency."

Birchies Repudiated
Kuehn steadfastly refused to campaign against Renk during the primary, but at one point was forced by the combined attacks of Reynolds, Nelson and Renk over alleged rightist influence to repudiate formally the support of the John Birch Society under the leadership of Robert Welch. He said he was against extremists of both the right and left wings, and challenged Reynolds and Nelson to repudiate Americans for Democratic Action. During the past weekend, a Milwaukee conservative said he had sent out 15,000 letters contending that the presence of Renk campaign literature in a Communist book store meant that Communists were campaigning against Kuehn. Renk is one of the most bitter statements of the primary, called the development a smear attack, but Kuehn disclaimed any knowledge of it and today, in sounding the call for unity, Renk said, "That's all over now."

Despite clear, cool weather

Tuesday, the turnout of voters agreed to address a fund-raising fell short even of the modest dinner in Reynolds' behalf Oct. 6, 1960—750,000—or 30 per cent of those Family troubles on the Republican side were smoothed over than two-thirds of those who earlier this year at a $100-a-plate voted cast their ballots in the dinner that brought Wiley, Kuehn publican primary, a stunning in- and Sen. Rep. and term by a decision of fewer Glenn Davis—introduced Wiley to- than 60,000 votes over Kuehn in the audience.

He described himself as a once-young state chairman who had taken on a veteran senator, and now "certainly older, and I hope-wiser," was supporting the same senator for a fifth term.

Kuehn's move brought Wiley back into a position of influence in the regular Republican organization, with which he had been frequently at odds over a large part of two decades.

Voters in the five-county Fox

Cities area gave Wiley a plurality of greater than 4 to 1 over

Wollenburg. Wiley received 36-

537 votes to 8,723 for Wollenburg.

Nelson's total in the Democrat-

received 7,276 votes.

Fox Cities area totals by the

Outagamie — Republican, Wiley, 10,768; Wollenburg, 2,721;

Democratic, Nelson, 2,904.

Winnebago — Republican, Wiley, 12,709; Wollenburg, 3,423;

Democratic, 2,866.

Calumet — Republican, Wiley,

2,652; Wollenburg, 573; Democratic, Nelson, 378.

Waupaca — Republican, Wiley,

5,275; Wollenburg, 941; Democratic, Nelson, 709.

Shawano — Republican, Wiley,

5,133; Wollenburg, 1,065; Democratic, Nelson, 417.

Wiley

Wollenburg

And on the Democratic side,

Nelson drew 183,227.

Wiley termed the results a "great vote of confidence, and promised to return home to campaign throughout the state until Nelson as soon as the Senate ad-justors.

The senior senator, who also is the senior Republican in the U.S.

Senate, made his statement by telephone from Houston, where he had been invited by President

John F. Kennedy to join administration leaders in an inspection of missile centers.

Sharp Reminder

Democratic President, on Wisconsin's election day reminded observers that Nelson was not among the early supporters of

Mr. Kennedy during his presidential primary campaign days.

Reynolds was the highest ranking office holder to support the President early in 1960, and Atty.

Gen. Robert Kennedy already has

missile and planemaker for the government.

The White House made public

Tuesday night the settlement plan devised for the four firms by a fact-finding board.

The panel stipulated the union shop arrangement would be conditioned on a two-thirds ratifying vote of affected workers.

Kennedy, on a tour of missile and space installations, said at Houston that the companies and unions should use the board's findings as the basis for settling the labor contract disputes without strikes. "They have a duty to the country," the President said.

Negotiators Leave

But it was reported that negotiators for the four firms and two unions have packed up and left

Washington without any immediate intention of returning talks.

Kennedy's fact-finders, who had presented their union shop and other settlement recommendations to the two sides privately a week ago, conceded that no agreements have been reached and the union shop issue is still "the chief road-

space strike would obviously be against the public interest and

"would not only shut down the plants which manufacture a large proportion of our missiles, rockets and spacecraft but would also close many of our missile sites."

"Such a strike," the President said, "would seriously set us back in space exploration and would imperil the national defense."

It was believed likely, if there are no settlements in a week or so, that Kennedy will feel compelled to invoke the Taft-Hartley emergency provision to obtain an 80-day assurance against any strikes.

Robert LaFollette Sucher, the third candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, re-

Science at Work Between Space Shots

Utilize Findings
In Equipment for Schirra's Flight

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sometime in the next month astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. is to ride a Mercury spacecraft six times around the earth to a Pacific Ocean landing. It will come four months after the latest Mercury manned shot. What happens in those four months is a subject for science at work.

The public eye is focused on the magic of the moment—a man staking his life on an adventurous ride into space.

Reason for Delay
But what of the months between these big moments? Why does it take so long between shots? The question is to be expected. To the men at work on Mercury spacecraft the answer is obvious.

The spacecraft itself is constantly changing. Malcolm Scott Carpenter's Aurora 7 spacecraft was different in some respects to John H. Glenn Jr.'s Freedom 7. Each flight contributes new ideas, new concepts of flight, new evaluations of equipment.

As of now, National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials plan at least one six-orbit flight—Schirra's—and at least one 18-orbit flight. How well the Mercury spacecraft and its pilot perform can determine the next shot.

New Ideas
For instance, Carpenter's flight May 24 confirmed some ideas, offered some new ones.

Carpenter found he could easily put the spacecraft into controlled drift—constantly changing attitude. The maneuver didn't seem to bother him and it allowed a conservation of the fuel used to maintain the attitude—the pitch, yaw and roll of the spacecraft.

On future long-term missions, this will be part of the flight order. Earlier astronauts questioned the need of the 69-pound telescope. The spacecraft window in the Carpenter flight seemed adequate. In future flights the telescope will be removed, and the weight used to provide other services.

Changes Made
Glenn's experience allowed Mercury engineers to remove some instruments from the spacecraft dash panel, and put in some additional heat-sensing equipment, and improve the electrical circuits that sense the release of the heat shield. There were other changes too.

Changes in the spacecraft itself are only part of the story. NASA planners look carefully at the pilot's performance, his flight plan, the things he did in orbit.

Sees Particles
Carpenter became engrossed in certain of the phenomena he observed during the flight. He was concerned with looking closer at some of the things Glenn had observed—the strange particles for instance.

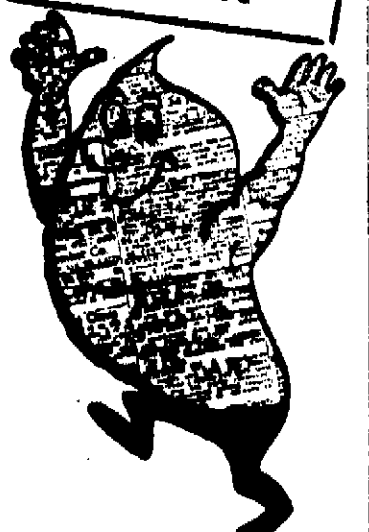

In fact it was, by his own statement, the discovery of these particles toward the end of his flight that made him hurry his preparations for re-entry to the earth.

NASA officials, reporting on the mission said that flight difficulties occurring during this mission have served to emphasize that the primary attention of the pilot should be devoted to management of spacecraft systems and detailed attention to operational functions. His first duty is to fly his spacecraft.

Constant Activity
What goes on during the time between missions? Everyone—between missions? In the past four months, Carpenter's flight has been flown and refloated on Grand Turk Island in the Bahamas where he made his initial report, at Cape Canaveral, Fla., at manned spacecraft headquarters in Houston, Tex., and everywhere that engineers put together the heart of the Mercury spacecraft.

GOP, Democratic Party Precinct Committeemen Selected Tuesday

Shawano Sets Record for Primary Vote

Appleton Second Ward Democratic Write-in Causes Temporary Confusion

A misunderstanding in Appleton's Second Ward added a little excitement to Outagamie County primary election balloting for Democratic party committeemen Sept. 11.

The election board originally set aside six write-in votes for Robert W. Swanson for the Democratic party committeeman post because Swanson also appeared on the ballot as candidate for the First District Assemblyman.

The board questioned whether Swanson could run for both posts and decided not to count the write-in votes. Mrs. Swanson brought this to the attention of County Clerk Mollie Pfeffer. She conferred with City Clerk Elden J. Broehm, who called the election board members to his office about 10:30 p.m.

Broehm explained that the write-in votes must be counted and the election board re-canvassed the vote, giving Swanson the victory. There was no candidate's name printed on the ballot.

Republican candidate for Second Ward committeeman, Andrew C. Jmos, who ran unopposed, received 449 votes.

Appleton Selections

Other committeemen elected in Appleton precincts were: Ward 1, Republican Rose Schroeder and Democrat write-in Jacob Shilcrat; Ward 2, Republican Andrew C. Jmos; Third Ward, Republican Kenneth J. Loos; Fourth Ward, Republican Austin N. Tucker and Democrat Lester A. Balliet.

Fifth Ward, Republican Malcolm C. Willis; Sixth Ward, Republican Merrill F. Filz; Seventh Ward, Republican G. Allen Bubolz and Democrat Leonore L. Kern; Eighth Ward, Republican Bertha Froelich; Ninth Ward (First Precinct), Republican Dorothy Boettcher and Democrat Michael J. Hart; Ninth Ward (Second Precinct), Republican William F. Fisher and Democrat Bernice Cich; 10th Ward, Republican Cody Splitt and Democrat Elva Myse; 11th Ward, Republican Richard Van Sistine and Democrat Selig; 12th Ward, Republican Charles Heeter and Democrat Christine Wise.

Other Committeemen

Committeemen selected for other wards were: 13th Ward, Republican Marion A. Withuhn and Democrat Glenn W. Thompson; 14th Ward, Republican Lyman B. Clark; 15th Ward, Republican Richard N. Platt; 16th Ward, Republican Ethel Meidam; 17th Ward, Republican William L. Chopin and Democrat Virginia Kagen; 18th Ward, Republican Hagen W. Wolfe and Democrat Jeanette P. Shoaff; 19th Ward, Republican Harold V. Froelich; and 20th Ward, Republican Roger A. Rusch.

In the five Kaukauna wards committeemen elected were: First Ward, Democrat Kenneth Kiffe; Second Ward, Republican James Bamberg; Third Ward, Republican Arthur Lauer; Fourth Ward, Republican Percal Eimmerman and Democrat Philip Voights; Fifth Ward, Republican Lester Andersen and Democrat Fred Reichel.

Augusta Bunnow was elected Republican committeeman in Kimberly and Eugene Hietpas was chosen Democratic committeeman. Domonic Peeters got the Republican post in Little Chute, while in Combined Locks, William J. Peterson Jr. got the Republican nod and John P. DeGoey the Democratic.

New Location

In New London's Third Ward, that city's only Outagamie County precinct, Eleanor Sennett was elected Republican committeeman and Mary Van Alstine got the Democratic Party nod.

In the two Seymour precincts committeemen elected were: First Ward, Republican Keith an Vuren and Second Ward, Republican Norman Haess and Democrat William Richardson. The town of Grand Chute also had two precincts reporting. Elected the First Precinct were Stanley Gillespie, Republican, and Tom Weiland, Democrat. In Precinct Two, winner was Republican LeRoy Melzer.

Other Results

Other committeemen elected were: Town of Maine, Republican, Cecil Carpenter and Democrat Ray Muskavitch; Town of Kaukauna, Republican Frank Far-ll and Democrat Wesley Newhouse; Town of Bovina, Republican Ervin Conrad and Democrat Nelson Gehring; Town of Osborn, Republican Norman G. Carl Krueger Nominated in Hot GOP Sheriff Race

SHAWANO—The city set a record for a primary election when 1,988 voters turned out for a hotly contested three-way race for GOP Sheriff nomination. There were over 7,000 votes cast in the county.

Incumbent Carl L. Krueger, polled 3,111 votes, the same number as the telephone in the Shawano Sheriff's office. Close on Krueger's heels was Capt. Edward W. Bahr, county policeman, with 2,546 votes. Ted Y. Eul polled 1,000 votes.

The only other county post contested on the GOP ballot was for district attorney. Michael G. Eberlein, brother of incumbent Fred Eberlein, polled 3,133 votes to Lloyd G. Andrews' 3,101. Andrews is the present Shawano city attorney.

There were no contests on the Democratic ballot.

Incumbent GOP officers and County Clerk Neil R. Druckery, 5,797; County Treasurer Grover W. Beverdorf, 5,601; Coroner Harvey C. Stubenvoll, 5,443; Circuit Court Clerk William F. Kumm, 5,353, and Register of Deeds Waldemar W. Berndt, 5,426.

Seeking Democratic nominations were Merlyn W. Rosenow, 406, for sheriff; James E. Anderson, 382, for clerk of circuit court; Kenneth Traeger, 401, for district attorney; and Melba K. Bayer, 399, for register of deeds. There were no Democratic candidates for county clerk, coroner or surveyor.

Deny Kaukauna Attachment

Petitioners Asked Detachment of Small Area From Hilbert

A petition to detach 640 acres from the Hilbert School District and attach it to Kaukauna was denied by a unanimous vote of the joint Calumet, Outagamie and Brown county school committees following a public hearing in Kaukauna Monday.

A petition with six signers had requested that the area attached to Hilbert last fall be detached and attached to Kaukauna. Hilard Brantmeier said he was mostly responsible for the petition. His two farms are in different school districts, and he will eventually attend high school attached as a result of an oversight, and is surrounded by territory attached to Hilbert.

Wednesday, Sept. 12, 1962 Appleton Post-Crescent A19 part of the Kaukauna school system, he said he favored having them to high school in Kaukauna both in the Kaukauna district. He when they had already started said the farthest point on his the school year in Hilbert.

property is one mile from the Ivan Novak and Wilbert Schulz, Harrison Grade School.

Other residents favoring Kaukauna said they would like to set in accordance with the territorial advantage of sending their tory Hilbert had serviced for children to kindergarten at the many years on a tuition basis. They said the question of property valuation should not be considered above the children in their advantage to have the property in the Kaukauna district. er family is still in Cuba, re- marked, "The Communist soldiers re the talk of the country. Peo- ple are horrified at the thought f the Reds taking over Cuba." Pedro Meng, another new refu- ee, stated emphatically that Rus- ian ships have unloaded men and ockets in Havana.

"All Cubans know that," he aid. "We have seen it."

Thirteen-year-old Angel Ricardo seen in almost every facet of life jarcia reported he had witnessed an urban militiamen escorting uni- worn by Cubans, to the food they rmed Communists to bases out- ide Havana.

A similar story was told by Olga Martinez. She related that on Aug. 30 she had seen 18 bus- loads of Russian technicians being driven to the airport.

Foreign Doctors
Fleeing Cuban refugees, who recently arrived in Miami by boat, told of increasing numbers of foreigners from behind the Iron Curtain now practicing medi- cine on the island.

The Communist bloc doctors and medical technicians are tak- ing the place of Cuban physicians who earlier fled the revolution in droves.

"Doctors are not allowed to leave Cuba now," said a gentle- speaking surgeon, who had spent five days on the open sea during the trip to Florida.

Officer, who visited Cuba to see the revolution for himself, said that the Communist influence is seen in almost every facet of life on the island from the clothes worn by Cubans, to the food they eat, to the books they read.

"I saw pen and pencil sets that came from Red China," he commented. "The clothing is obvious- ly imported from Eastern Eu- rope. And the Marxist literature, translated into Spanish, pours in. Books have titles like 'Romania Today,' 'Soviet Woman,' or 'China, Illustrated.'"

The food, which he called "ter- rible," included canned meat im- ported from behind the Iron Cur- tain.

Some of the passengers report- ed that they had been stripped of valuables and money at the Ha- vana Airport before boarding the plane. Several, however, brought in a box of cigars or a carton of rum.

The cartons were marked in Spanish: "A truly Happy Place— Visit Cuba" nomination for state treasurer. Lamb held the post in 1960-60. Schneider had 96,741 votes. Lamb 94,708.

Zimmerman Tops

The perennial ticket-leader, Re- publican Robert C. Zimmerman, again headed the pack, garnering 368,607 votes in his unopposed campaign for renomination as secretary of state.

Mrs. Dena Smith tallied 357,981 votes for the Republican renom- ination as state treasurer. She was unchallenged.

Zimmerman and Smith are ex- amples of candidates who once ell from party favor and went on to win the office they sought by defeating GOP convention choices.

Thompson now joins the Zim- merman-Smith duo at the primary level at least. That leaves Kuehn and Jack B. Olson of Wisconsin Dells, the unopposed candidate for lieutenant governor, the only members of the present Repub- lican team with party records clear of onetime organizational rejection. Olson, a resort and a boatline operator, polled 342,215 votes.

Unopposed
Joining the Democratic team of Reynolds, Evans and Schneider are David Carley, the unopposed candidate for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant gover- nor, and Gerald Humphrey, who drew no foes in his bid for the secretary of state nomination.

Carley resigned as director of the State Department of Resource Development to make his first try for public office.

Eisenhower Hits Campaign Trail

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower hits the campaign trail Thursday in behalf of Republican candi- dates, and the GOP made it plain it plans to get a lot of mileage out of him.

Eisenhower's first appearance will be at Rensselaer, Ind. at a rally for House GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck.

Republican National Chairman William E. Miller said Eisenhower will campaign in at least six other states up to Oct. 15, when he will address a New England-wide television audience at a $100-a- plate "Birthday for Ike" dinner in Boston. That's the day after his 72nd birthday.

Fox Cities Voters Give Kuehn Solid Aid as Nominee

Renk Trails by 8,000 Ballots; Sen. Wiley Is Top Vote-Getter

Philip G. Kuehn, the dapper 42-year-old Whitefish Bay business- man making his second bid for Wisconsin's governorship, got solid support from residents in the five-county Fox Cities region

Tuesday Kuehn the candidate with the catchy campaign song who was endorsed at the state Republican convention earlier this year, de- feated Wilbur Renk, 52, hard- campaigning farmer and hybrid seed corn grower, for the GOP nomination.

In the five-county region— Outagamie, Winnebago, Calumet, Waupaca and Shawano — Kuehn piled up a total of 26,903 votes to Renk's 19,874. The Wisconsin Re- publican standardbearer's margin of victory was close to 8,000 votes.

The third GOP candidate, Robert LaFollette Sucher, 37, Mad- ison, who did not wage an active campaign and was not conceded a chance to win the nomination, trailed far behind with 1,332 votes.

Kuehn registered a smashing victory over Renk in Winnebago County, polling 10,244 to 6,604. Outagamie County residents also gave Kuehn a big boost with 8,067 as compared to 5,995 for his top rival. Both in Shawano and Waupaca counties, Kuehn held a 3 to 2 margin over Renk, while the two Republican front-runners ran closest in Calumet County. Kuehn had 1,702 votes to Renk's 1,620.

Active Campaigns

While both Kuehn and Renk campaigned extensively through- out the Fox Cities region, it was the latter who stepped up his vote-seeking activities in the area with more appearances than his opponent from the Milwaukee metropolitan area. Kuehn's strong showing in this region was in- dicative of the following he has among the conservative element of the Republican party.

It was the general feeling among the political pros that Renk in all probability picked up steam in his campaign in recent days, which may have added to his vote gathering in this part of the Badger State.

Atty Gen John W. Reynolds, the unopposed Democratic guber- natorial nominee who has been in the thick of political skirmishes for months, finished up with 8,112 votes in the region. Reynolds showed his best strength in Win- nebago County, getting 3,173 votes, and also picked up 2,997 in Outagamie County.

Biggest Vote-Getter

Veteran U.S. Sen. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis., who is seeking his fifth term, had only token oppo- sition from Arlyn F. Wollenburg of Rosendale, a political unknown and perennial office-seeker. Wis- consin's senior senator proved to be the leading vote-getter in the five county region with 36,537. Wollenburg picked up 8,687 votes, making his best showing in Win- nebago County where he had 3,423 votes cast in his favor.

Wiley polled 12,709 votes in Winnebago County to top the bal- loting there. He had 10,768 in Out- agamie County, 5,275 in Waupaca County, 2,632 in Calumet County, and 5,133 in Shawano County.

The unopposed Democratic sen- ate candidate, Gov. Gaylord Nel- son, received 7,274 votes in the Fox Cities region. Nelson ran best in Winnebago County, get- ting 2,866 votes there, and his weakest in Calumet County where he polled 378.

The office of attorney general brought about nomination races in both the Democratic and Re- publican parties.

Competition was keen in the Republican column as far as this region was concerned with George Thompson LaCrosse, the GOP candidate two years ago, getting 24,664 votes, and Robert G. Marotz, Madison, Assembly chief clerk, receiving 21,614.

On the other side of the ledger in the Democratic party race, William H. Evans outdistanced El- liott Walstead by a 4,864 to 3,055 margin. Both men are from Mil- waukee.

In the Democratic contest for nomination for state treasurer, John Schneider of Sheboygan, re- ceived 4,651 votes in the Fox Ci- ties region as compared to 3,245 votes for Eugene Lamb of Mil- waukee, who held the office two years ago.

The Republican incumbent, Mrs. Dena Smith, Milwaukee, was un- opposed in the primary and re- ceived a whopping 36,280 votes in regional balloting.

The Democratic and Republican candidates for lieutenant gover- nor were unopposed in the pri- mary. Jack Olson of Wisconsin Dells ran stronger than Kuehn did in the region with 32,871 votes. Olson's best showing was in Win- nebago county with 12,364, follow- ed by Outagamie county where he picked up 10,225 votes.

David Carley of Madison, who resigned his post as the state's industrial development director to run for the second top spot in the Wisconsin government, polled 6,670 votes in the five counties, also making his most impressive showing in Winnebago county.

Republican Secretary of State Robert Zimmerman, who was un- opposed for the Republican party nomination for reelection, piled up 38,576 votes. Gerald Humph- rey, the unopposed Democratic candidate, had 6,700

Justice Frankfurter 'Superior Intellectual'

Chicago Daily News Service

WASHINGTON — Future ex-servatives sputtered and grieved over constitutional law with for the fate of the republic. His court career was an almost complete reversal of form. He placed in the Supreme Court complete reversal of form. He retired from the bench a few weeks ago.

But they may have trouble. Felix Frankfurter defies the easy characterization. During the New Deal days, he was supposed to be the archetype of the bleeding-heart liberal. When Franklin D. Roosevelt named him to the Supreme Court, con-puzzled by the harshness of his liberal critics.

Whatever else may be said of him, one thing is certainly true—he has never been dull. His mind has danced to a special kind of music, challenging, sometimes exasperating, invariably sprightly.

Took Delight Frankfurter probably took delight in frustrating the prophets, although he is said to have been that seemed at once to penetrate and judge with an eerie speed.

Above all else, Frankfurter hated phonies. He once devised a set of criteria for the apurposeness of a man in public life, and presented them at a private dinner with him, however briefly, knew they were in the presence of a superior intellect. They often felt man's press notices were out of all proportion to his intrinsic worth. One had a suspicion that Frankfurter was striking subtly at the press' penchant for myth-making because there were several newspapermen at the dinner.

Those who came into contact with prominent figures who qualified for the label of phoney under his

The voting was secret, and as Frankfurter silently scanned the slips of paper, his expression betrayed no judicial verdict. A surprising number of votes were cast for the same men. Frankfurter simply read the results and if he had had anybody in mind as fitting his prescription, he declined to reveal it.

The man was a gaffly, refusing to accept fuzzy judgments and stereotyped views of society. He had the courage to believe that Communists, Fascists, Ku Kluxers and others that became an anathema to most Americans were entitled to the protection of the laws.

"Civil liberties mean liberties for those we like and those we don't like, or even detest," he once said. He never seemed to care much about personal popularity — and that distinguished him as a man in an age of scrubbed and deceptive images.

Studio Moves to New Location on Memorial Drive

The Rusckl Studio moved Monday from 206 W. College Ave., above the First National Bank, to 325 S. Memorial Drive.

After doing business in the bank building for 13 years, the studio had to move because of the bank's plans to construct new facilities. Milton O. Rusckl, owner and operator said, Rusckl said he bought the building on Memorial Drive, and will continue to do portrait, commercial and school photography.

Last month he was awarded a master of photography degree by the Professional Photographers of America.

The studio has been in continuous operation since about 1880, when it was started by W. T. Ross, who came here from London, England. Ross was the father of Mrs. Alden Johnston, 230 N. Drew St.

Rusckl bought the business from Tom Mullen.

Indians Vote For First Time As New County

Slight Mixup Occurs During Balloting on Former Reservation

KESHENA — Indian citizens of the new Menominee County voted for county candidates for the first time Tuesday.

Except for one of the five precincts, where confused voters in a mixup voted straight tickets in the primary election, balloting went off without a hitch.

Incumbent sheriff Wilmer Peters, a Democrat, will oppose Aloysius Frechette, the Republican nominee, in the general election. Peters polled 170 votes to 35 for Wilbur (Ted) Warrington on the Democratic ballot and Frechette had 79 to 6 for Mose Neesh on the Republican ticket.

County Clerk George C. Bowman, who together with sheriff Peters and other incumbent county officers, was appointed by Gov. Gaylord Nelson, was the largest vote-getter on the county ballot. The only non-Menominee on the ballot, Bowman polled a total of 192 votes. He is a white man and his wife is a Menominee.

All Appointed Incumbent Democratic office-holders, all serving by appointment since the former Indian Reservation became the state's 72nd county on May 1, 1961, received the following vote totals: Bruce Wilbur, treasurer, 181; Arnold Corn, coronor, 188; Mary Grignon, clerk of court, 188; and Lillian Plaz, register of deeds, 188.

Democrats in office will be opposed in November by Republican candidates, who polled the following vote totals Tuesday: Altee Dodge, clerk, 96; Erwin Besaw, treasurer, 94; and Joseph White, coronor, 81.

The voting mixup came in Menominee County's first precinct, which covers the Zoar settlement north of Neopit. Voters there, many of whom speak the native Menominee language and follow the tribal religion, simply voted by marking an X at the top of either of the party ballots.

The Zoar voters cast 14 Republican ballots and 11 Democratic ballots without choosing between candidates for nominations in contested races on each ticket.

Made Ruling According to ruling by the office of the secretary of state in Madison this morning, the Zoar votes will count only for the uncontested candidates on either party ballot.

In the Republican primary contest for the state assembly seat from Shawano and Menominee counties, Menominee county voters cast 37 ballots for Assemblyman Theodore Abrahamson, Tigerton, the incumbent, 33 for Hugo V. Baker, Shawano, 22 for John Reinke, Bowler, and 3 for Orie A. Meyer. The single Democratic candidate for assembly, Martin Weining, Shawano, polled 137 votes.

The Menominee tally for governor was Democrat John W. Reynolds, 141, and Republicans Philip G. Kuehn, 67, and Wilbur R. Renk, 24, and Robert La Follette Sucher, 7.

For U. S. senator, the results were Democrat Gaylord Nelson, 146, Republicans Alexander Wiley, 72, and Arlyn F. Wollenburg, 17.

Menominee County gave 112 votes to Rep. Melvin Laird, R-Marshfield, and 136 to Democrat John Evans in the Seventh Congressional District. For the 29th district state senate seat the results were 142 for Robert Dean Wausau, the Democratic incumbent, and 87 for Charles F. Smith, the Republican candidate.

A total of 382 votes were cast in the new county. This represents a turnout of about 65 per cent of Menominee County's eligible voters.

Heating Pipe For Sauna Baths Ignites Garage NEENAH — Fire caused by an uninsulated pipe running through the wood framework of a garage at the Bruce Lintner home, 311 Church St., completely destroyed the garage. Firemen were called at 1:48 a.m. today to extinguish the blaze.

The pipe was used for sauna baths. There was no car in the garage but two cars in a garage at the home of Mrs. Bertha Edwards, 212 Smith St., which adjoins the Lintner property, were removed. The Edwards garage received some damage.

The amount of the loss was not estimated.

Winnebago Welfare Worker Resigns Post OSHKOSH — The resignation of Miss Elizabeth Oxner from the Winnebago County welfare department was announced today by welfare director Norman Whitford.

Miss Oxner will return to the University of Wisconsin to complete work on her masters degree in social work. She was an intake worker for the department from Jan. 1, 1960, until the present time.

Her duties will be assumed by David Zuern, a caseworker for the welfare department since 1956.

Calumet 400 Holstein Sale Grosses $22,805; Top Cow Brings $750

Prices Off From Last Year, but Dairymen Say Auction Successful

CHILTON — The 20th annual Calumet 400 Holstein Foundation sale, Tuesday at Calumet Arena, grossed $22,805.

Although prices were off from those of last year and the record-setting 1960 sale, the event was rated as a success by most dairymen and consigners. Charles

Brace, Madison, former national Holstein-Friesian fieldman, said: "It was a good sale, better than some of the dairy cattle sales I've been to recently."

The sale total was $2,390 off the record $25,195 set in 1960. Top animal sold for $750. It was a two-year old female consigned by Joseph Keuler, Kiel, and purchased by Wayne Steinmetz, route 1, Chilton. This marks the first year that a county buyer purchased the high animal.

Paired Price Highest price ever paid for a single animal at the 400 Sales was $1,000. This was done twice. In 1946 a Mexican buyer paid it for an Edwin Seybold bull and in 1960 Seybold County Hospital Farm matched the price for a 7-year-old cow consigned by a Newton breeder.

Fifty head of females averaged $428.20 compared with $451 last year and $488 in the record shattering 1960 event.

Seven bulls averaged only $200. Last year the bulls commanded an average of $279 and two years ago it took $300 to buy the average bull.

The top bull this year was consigned by Pinehurst Farms, Sheboygan Falls, and purchased for $325 by Harry Hamann, route 2, Sheboygan.

A South Carolina man, Milton Anderson, was the only out-of-state buyer. He bought a State Reformatory Farm bull for $290, the second high male.

Second high female was purchased for $685 by Harold Vick, route 2, Plymouth, from Francis Webb and Sons, Plymouth.

Eight heifer calves averaged $93 and six bull calves averaged $16. A total of 65 animals — calves born after catalog consignment and not counted — were sent to the auction circle by 49 consigners representing most east-central Wisconsin counties.

Leonard Seybold, Forest Junction, was again sale manager for the county Holstein breeders. Harvey Swartz, Waukesha, was auctioneer and Don Steege and Alvin Piper were ringmen.

Sale clerks were G. G. Bloomer and Bert Ketter.

4 Men Named to Board of Directors Of Paper Institute

Thilmany Executive Among New Members Elected at 33rd Meeting

Alexander Calder Jr., David C. Knowlton, Guy E. McCorison, and Paul C. Baldwin were elected trustees of the Institute of Paper Chemistry at the 33rd annual meeting of Supporting Members of the Institute of Paper Chemistry at the Institute Tuesday.

Calder is president of the Union Bag-Camp Paper Corp., New York City. Knowlton is president of Knowlton Brothers, Watertown, N. Y. McCorison is chairman of the board, Thilmany Pulp and Paper Co., Kaukauna. Baldwin is executive vice president, Scott Paper Co., Philadelphia.

Calder and Knowlton were elected to five-year terms as term trustees. McCorison was elected to the ex officio trustee term held by a nominee of the Lawrence College board of trustees. Baldwin was elected to the position of alumni trustee as a nominee of the Institute of Paper Chemistry.

McCorison, Knowlton and Baldwin are making their initial appearances on the Institute's board of trustees. Calder served previously as a term trustee from 1955 to 1960. Term trustees cannot succeed themselves in consecutive terms.

With the election, Karl E. Stansbury completed a period of 16 consecutive years of service on the Institute's Board of Trustees. Stansbury, formerly chairman of the board of Thilmany, was first elected a term trustee in 1946, and subsequently served continuously as the ex officio trustee nominated by the Lawrence College board of trustees.

Also completing terms as trustees with the election were Ward D. Harrison, president, Allied Paper Corp., Kalamazoo, Mich.; P.

Marcus to Add 50 Rooms to Hy. 41 Motel

Guest House Inn to Have Pool, Cocktail Lounge

Plans to double the capacity of the Pfister Hotel, Milwaukee, to the Guest House Inn, at College Avenue and U.S. 41, Appleton, were announced today by Ben D. Marcus, owner.

Marcus said he will add 50 rooms to the present 50 rooms of the inn, bringing the total to 100 motel rooms by April, 1963. Work

Also to be incorporated into the will start before Nov. 1. 50-unit addition are an indoor pool and modern cocktail lounge. The addition will be built to the north of the present units. It will contain a center corridor which will permit patrons to enter their rooms from the lobby through a large center hallway.

An overhead walkway will allow patrons to go from the present Guest House to the new addition. Architects for the project are Shelley and Segal, Milwaukee.

Marcus at present is restoring Ceiling Damaged by Fire at Restaurant A short-circuit in a ventilator fan at Dag's Drive-In, 1909 E. Wisconsin Ave., Monday caused minor damage to the ceiling near the area when sparks started a small fire.

Grease and residue in the vent burned, firemen said, and several pieces of the ceiling had to be removed in order to repair the roof.

Shatter Glass In Break-in

Merchandise Taken From Drug Store On College Avenue

Burglars used an unknown object to shatter quarter-inch plate glass in a side door of the Ford Rexall Drug Store, 228 W. College Ave. and enter the building early this morning.

Merchandise on display was disturbed but a complete list of the missing items has not been tabulated and police still are investigating the break-in.

Police said the glass on the side door was shattered with such force it sent glass 15 feet inside the building. The entire five-foot high plate glass window was damaged. The door is on the Superior Street side of the store.

Found Break-in The break-in was discovered by William Zimmerman Jr., an employee of the Yellow Cab Co. who when he went past the building about 5:30 a.m. today, noticed the shattered glass and called police.

Detectives at the scene said the only cash taken was several pennies left in the unlocked cash registers. The registers are left unlocked to prevent damage to them by burglars. The cash drawers normally are kept open, police said, but the burglars shut the drawers after taking the pennies.

Menasha Voters OK Bonds For Stadium

Passes by Margin of Two to One

MENASHA — Voters of Menasha Tuesday gave emphatic approval of the Nathan Calder Athletic Field project, passing on the required $150,000 bond issue by a 2 to 1 margin.

Of the 2,817 votes cast for the stadium project, 66.42 per cent were in favor of the bond issue. Vote was 1,871 for and 946 against.

The bond issue carried decisively throughout the city. By wards the totals were 305 to 121 in the First, 321 to 173 in the Second, 353 to 163 in the Third, 341 to 182 in the Fourth, 310 to 164 in the Fifth and 241 to 143 in the Sixth.

Voter response was 44 per cent of the city's 6,399 registered voters.

The stadium will be built, since the Common Council already has given approval of the bond issue. It will be at 11th and Warsaw Streets, on a 10-acre site donated in December 1959 by Banta Co. Foundation. The foundation also has offered at least $25,000 cash up toward the project costs, to be paid on awarding contracts.

The name given the stadium is that of "Nate" Calder, Menasha's head football coach from 1923 to 1948, when he retired because of poor health.

Terms of the grant are that the city build a permanent stadium with as many seats as possible.

Menasha Tuesday gave emphatic approval of the Nathan Calder Athletic Field project, passing on the required $150,000 bond issue by a 2 to 1 margin.

Draheim Gets Nomination for Fourth Term

OSHKOSH — State Sen. William A. Draheim of Neenah was nominated for his fourth term as state senator by Republican voters in Tuesday's primary.

He was given 11,881 votes in the County to 4,642 for Warren Wilentz.

Hospitalize 3 in Two-Car Neenah Crash

NEENAH — Three persons were hospitalized as the result of an accident at Main Street and W. Doty Avenue at 5:06 p.m. involving cars driven by Alfred C. Laske, 70, 321 Grandview Ave., Menasha, and Roger L. Werth, 18, route 1, Neenah.

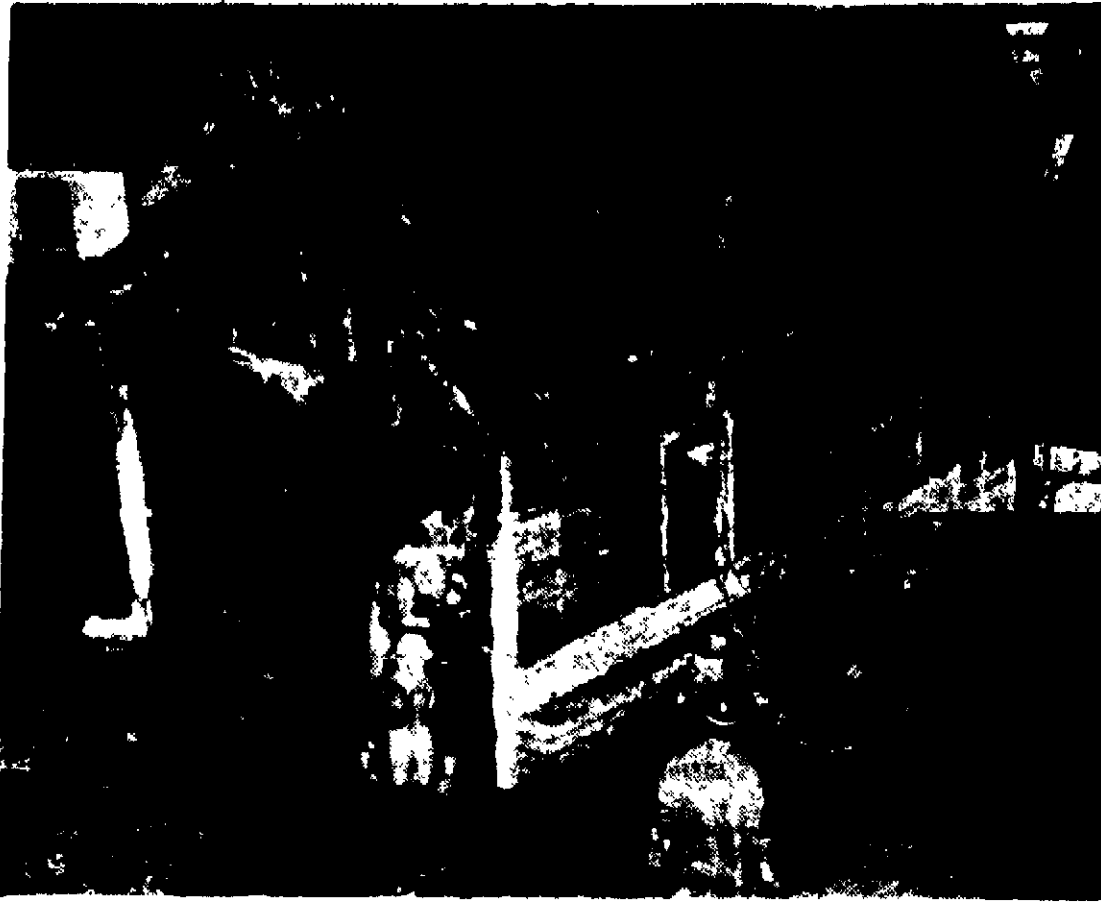

Mrs. Harvey Grundman, 320 Ninth St., Menasha, wife of one of the Town of Menasha Board members, is in serious condition at Theda Clark Hospital with lacerations on the face, a head injury and possible broken arm. She was a passenger in the Laske car.

Laske received a head and chest injuries and his wife received a right shoulder and chest injury. Their condition was described this morning as being satisfactory.

Laske was headed east on Main Street and Werth was going west on W. Doty Avenue and had stopped for the arterial prior to starting into the street. He said he had failed to see the approaching Laske car.

Meeting Tonight

MENASHA — The Menasha Athletic Association will make plans for its fall activities at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. today at the Menasha Eagles clubrooms. Also on the agenda will be a report on the Labor Day weekend softball tournament.

The Blackened Shell of what was the garage at the Bruce Lintner home, 311 Church St., Neenah, remains after being damaged in an early morning fire today. Firemen prepare to leave the scene after extinguishing the fire to which they were called at 1:48 a.m. today. (TCNR Staff Photo)

Menasha Historical Society to View 1856 Paintings of Fox Lock Projects

BY PAUL VANDERBILT
State Historical Society

When the Fox River Improvement Co. was having its try at making a go of river transportation in 1856, it commissioned two of the best known artists in Wisconsin, Samuel M. Brookes and Thomas H. Stevenson, to make a series of paintings of the canals along the river. All 11 of these original local scenes painted 107 years ago, will be loaned by the State Historical Society in Madison for exhibition at the annual dinner of the Menasha Historical Society at the Hotel Menasha at 6 p.m. Thursday.

Exactly what use was made of the paintings is not known. Very likely they were used in connection with money-raising, for they were commissioned by Morgan L. Martin of Green Bay, the principal promoter of the river improvement company. If so, this was an unusual use of works of art for that day.

Most paintings of that time were portraits or views painted merely to please. These views, as a set, were apparently made for the highly practical purpose of showing the appearance of the Fox River improvements to men interested in the progress of commerce in the region.

City Views
There are in the series views of Portage City, Menasha and Green Bay as they looked in 1856. All the other paintings are of locks along the canal, in the scenery of the time, with small mills at the dams and sometimes small boats fishing or approaching the locks.

These paintings represent the locks at Grand Chute (Appleton), Cedar Rapids opposite Kimberly, Little Chute, the double lock a little further on, The Guard Lock at Kaukauna, Grand Kaukauna with its whole series of locks, Rapide Croche above Wrightstown and De Pere.

The paintings are small and could easily have been shown in the course of turning a conversation toward the progress which would follow when the improvements in the river were completed. They are clear, brilliant and well-executed and give an excellent sequence picture of how the river looked before the Civil War. Where great mills and power plants now stand was then a picturesque countryside, almost a wilderness.

New Company
This company had only three years to complete its work, however, and in this they failed. In the course of financial complications, a new company was formed, called the Green Bay and Mississippi Canal Co. but in due

Sheriff Lowell Nominated Again By Republicans

Incumbent Picks Up 9,835 Votes, 2 to 1 in Menasha

Lowell

Lowell picked up 9,835 votes to 7,000 for Jordan. The incumbent will be opposed by Frank Selz who was unopposed on the Democratic ticket for the sheriff nomination and who picked up 2,658 votes.

Lowell made a strong race in Oshkosh, took Menasha 2 to 1, won in Neenah, and captured nine of the 16 towns, plus Winnebago and Omro. In some precincts only two votes separated the Jordan and Lowell vote totals. In other precincts several hundred votes were the difference.

Oshkosh's vote was 4,878 for Lowell to 3,439 for Jordan. Menasha gave Lowell 1,113 votes and the Republican nomination for Jordan 569 ballots while Neenah cast 1,750 Lowell votes and 1,148 Jordan votes. The Village of Winnebago picked Lowell by 147 to 139. Omro backed the incumbent sheriff 181-80. The town totals were 1,767 for Lowell and 1,677 for Jordan.

Zoning Would Permit Seaplane Basin on Butte des Morts Shore

OSHKOSH — Rezoning of 8.4 acres of property owned by L. O. Cooke along Little Lake Butte des Morts north of the Chicago and North Western Railroad bridge is being recommended by the board of adjustments.

Cooke asked for a Commercial classification to permit operation of a marina and seaplane landing facility. He plans to extend the lagoon which is now about 500 feet long and to install a gasoline pump to service the boats and four seaplanes now located on the

The recommendation will be submitted to the County Board at its Sept. 25 meeting for either approval or rejection.

Mention Incinerator

The possibility of Appleton and nearby communities entering into an agreement to construct a re- gional incinerator was mentioned but only casually.

Ald. Donald W. Mueller said he thought Mayor Clarence Mitchell should play a stronger role in getting discussions underway con- cerning an incinerator for the area. "I think the mayor should built during World War II because start the ball rolling right now of the building material shortage.

Ask For Legal Opinion

The committee instructed the city attorney to write a legal defi- nition of such structures and re- commendation.

Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings ex- pressed the opinion the matter of an incinerator should be taken up by the Fox Valley Regional Plan- ning Commission. "In three years of defense Service, Inc., appeared deliberations it (the commission) before aldermen and explained hasn't even mentioned it," she said.

"A landfill program may be cheaper but I think the entire matter is a regional problem," Mrs. Stillings added.

"I think it's about time some questions are asked the regional plan commission on this matter," the full committee was the con- sideration.

Ald. Harold Hanemann, com- mittee chairman, explained the city has ordinances regulating the burning of trash and wanted to call for the overhauling of the know why violators have not been municipal financial structure prosecuted. "The law is on the books and everyone knows it," Hanemann asserted.

Democratic Post May Go to Mrs. Cherkasky

Appleton Woman Has Declared for State Committee

Appleton Women Has Declared for State Committee

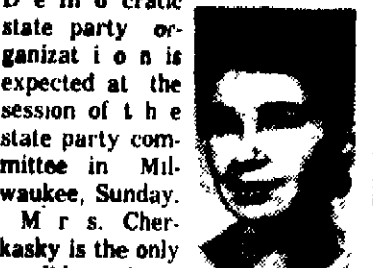

MADISON — Election of Mrs. William Cherkasky of Appleton to the second ranking office in the Democratic state party organization is expected at the session of the state party committee in Milwaukee, Sunday.

Mrs. Cherkasky is the only candidate thus far declared for Mrs. Cherkasky the position of organization vice chairman of the Democratic state committee vacated with the re- cent resignation of Mrs. Marion McBride of Wauwatosa.

Wife of an Appleton merchant and a veteran of party organiza- tion service, Mrs. Cherkasky has been head of the Outagamie county party unit and currently has a special assignment as director of the "Dollars for Democrats" drive of the state party.

The organization vice chairmanship is a kind of deputy leadership position in the organization headed by Chairman Patrick J. Lucey of Madison. A second vice chairmanship was created in the party a year ago, to be held by a man, and to be concerned primarily with legislative liaison of the party. That office now is held by Sen. Lynn Stalbaum of Racine, one of the leaders of the Democratic minority in the state legislature.

Democratic committeemen will consider progress of their party campaign at the session in Milwaukee Sunday afternoon which will precede a fund-raising testimonial dinner for Gov. Gaylord Nelson, Democratic nominee for United States senator.

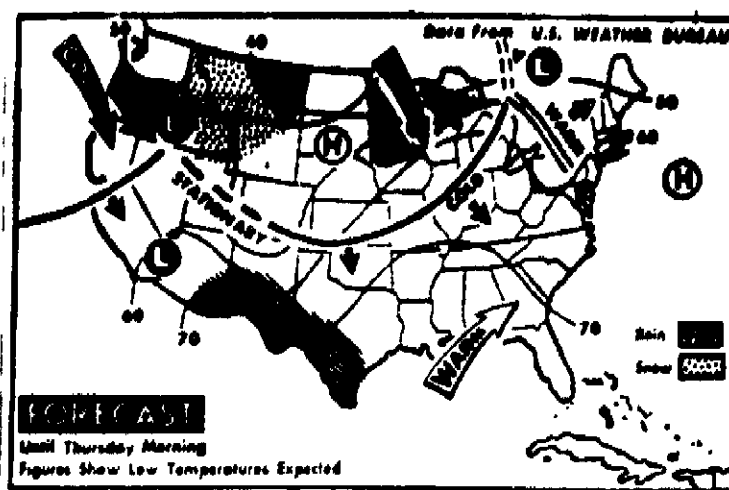

Mrs. William Cherkasky of Appleton to the second ranking office in the Democratic state party organization is expected at the session of the state party committee in Milwaukee, Sunday.

Seminar Arranged For Optometrists

A postgraduate extension seminar will be conducted for optometrists at Oshkosh, Sept. 19. The sessions will be conducted at the Hotel Raulf.

Dr. Wayne Covious, 1018 Oregon St., Oshkosh, is chairman. Conducting the sessions will be Dr. A. M. Skeffington of the Optometric Extension Program Foundation.

It Will Be Cooler tonight in the New England states and the northern plains; milder in the central Mississippi, Ohio and Tennessee valleys. Showers are forecast for the upper lakes area, the upper Mississippi Valley, the south Rockies, thme extreme southern plains, Oregon and the northern Rockies. There will be some snow in the higher elevations of the Rockies. (AP Wirephoto)

Tipsy Driver Fined $200

Appleton Man Gets 3 Month Jail Term, Resisted Arrest

William Zimmerman Jr., 42, 503 W. Northland Ave., Appleton, was fined $200 and court costs and sentenced to three months in the Outagamie County jail when he was found guilty of drunken driving and resisting arrest Tuesday. His driver's license was revoked one year.

Zimmerman, who was arrested July 13 on County Trunk A when he was seen driving without license plates on his car, appeared in County Court Branch 2. He had pleaded innocent of both counts when he appeared in court July 14. Zimmerman refused a drunkometer test.

Outagamie County traffic patrolman Stanley Arnold testified he stopped Zimmerman and arrested him for drunken driving. Zimmerman became abusive and Arnold placed him in handcuffs. Later, Zimmerman broke the handcuffs lock while he was being processed into the Outagamie County jail and shouted and cursed at the officers.

Blocked Vent Blamed For Explosions at Titan Missile Silo

CHICO, Calif. (AP)—The Air Force says a blocked vent caused two explosions that destroyed a Titan missile and severely damaged a missile silo at the Chico missile complex last May 24.

An Air Force report released Tuesday said the blocked vent caused an accumulation of gaseous oxygen. Leakage of water from the fire system blocked a valve.

Two weeks later a flash fire, which killed one worker, broke out at another silo. The Air Force said the June 6 blaze probably was caused by a spark from sand blasting equipment or a static electricity discharge.

Police Begin Safety Program

WAUPACA — With schools in operation county police are opening a safety campaign in an effort to prevent traffic accidents, Capt. Royal Myhill has announced.

Capt. Myhill said some drivers still are unfamiliar with state laws governing school buses. He stressed traffic from both directions must stop when school buses have red lights flashing.

All of the bus drivers in the county have been asked to take down the license numbers of cars failing to stop for flashing lights.

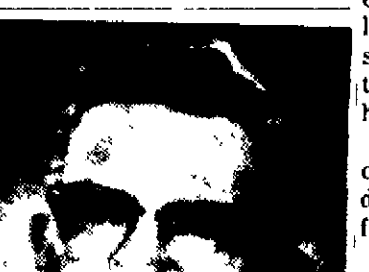

Capt. Myhill also said drivers should be watchful for children along the highway.

The county highway officer also asked drivers to take highway conditions into consideration while driving through the country.

Nina Ends First Leg Of Trip Across Ocean

HUELVA, Spain (AP)—The tiny Nina, a modern replica of the smallest of Christopher Columbus discovery fleet, sailed into the Rio Tinto waters here today to end the first leg of its attempt to retrace Columbus original route.

It was badly behind schedule. Lack of wind delayed the Nina and its crew of seven, including American Robert Marx, an underwater exploration expert. The sailing ship left San Sebastian Aug. 24.

Van Pelt Turns Back Bid of James Smyth in 6th District

Incumbents Byrnes, Laird Not Opposed; Race Democratic Victor

Veteran congressman William K. Van Pelt, Fond du Lac, won Fox Cities area and Sixth District Republican support in turning back the spirited bid of James P. Smyth of Sheboygan in the congressional primary election Tuesday.

Gordon V. Drake, 40, Oshkosh, won heavy backing of Democratic voters in the Winnebago-Calumet area, but failed to cut into the strength of Fond du Lac labor leader John A. Race in the southern portion of the district and lost.

Voters in Winnebago and Calumet counties gave Drake, an associate professor at Oshkosh State College, 2,143 votes to Race's 1,343, but Race polled 7,308 in the whole district to 6,095 for Drake.

Smyth, who took leave from his Sheboygan food brokerage business last February, put on a vigorous campaign. The 41-year-old avowed conservative gave Van Pelt, 57, his first real test in 10 years.

Winnebago and Calumet counties gave Smyth 7,430 votes to 12,013 for Van Pelt. Van Pelt received about 63 per cent of the vote in the surrounding area as he did in the whole district, where his vote total was 33,384 to Smyth's 20,764.

Van Pelt won in the Twin Cities, as well as Oshkosh. Neenah gave Van Pelt 1,829 votes to 1,118 for Smyth; Menasha supported Van Pelt by 997 to 754, and Oshkosh did likewise, Van Pelt winning 4,733 to 3,156.

Two other incumbent Wisconsin congressmen—Democrat Clement Zablocki and Republican Alvin O'Konski — easily brushed aside opponents and won renomination in Tuesday's primary election.

The state's seven other incumbent members of the House of Representatives were unopposed, including John W. Byrnes, Eighth District, and Melvin R. Laird, Seventh District.

Three races to select opponents for the incumbents were highlighted by a 1st District contest in which former Rep. Gerald T. Flynn, 51, of Racine, received the Democratic nomination in a three-way contest and will oppose Republican Henry Schadeberg, the incumbent from Burlington, in the Nov. 6 general election.

O'Konski, 57, of Mercer, who had been elected to 10 terms in the 10th District, turned back Republican challenger Raymond Stack, 29, a Superior real estate man, 19,657 votes to 5,895 on returns from 395 of the district's 417 precincts.

The unopposed Democratic candidate in the 10th District is J. Louis Hanson of Mellen.

Zablocki, representing the 4th District in Milwaukee, rolled to renomination by nearly a 10 to 1 margin over former State Sen. Roman Blenski. On the basis of returns from 327 of 329 precincts, Zablocki had a 41,546 to 6,317

Wickstrom, 55, of rural Walworth. Schadeberg was unopposed in a bid for a second term.

The 2nd District representative, Democrat Robert Kastanmeier of Watertown, was unopposed but the Republicans contested in picking their candidate.

The nomination went to Ivah H. Kindachi, a farmer from Marshall, who was the 1960 GOP candidate for state treasurer. The 41-year-old Kindachi defeated David A. Noebel, 26, a Madison minister.

Returns from 334 of 353 precincts gave Kindachi 37,110 votes, Noebel 23,314.

Opponents in the 3rd District will be incumbent Republican W. Thomson, former governor from Richland Center, and Walter P. Thorsen of La Crosse. They were unopposed.

Also unopposed were the 5th District nominees, incumbent Democratic Rep. Henry Reuss of Milwaukee and Republican Thomas F. Nelson, also of Milwaukee.

There were no contests in the 7th District where the November showdown will match incumbent Republican Melvin Laird of Marshfield and Democratic challenger John E. Evans of Wausau. Republican John Byrnes, the 8th District representative from Green Bay, was unopposed in the primary as was his Democratic opponent, Owen F. Monfils, also of Green Bay.

Byrnes outpolled Monfils in Outagamie County, 11,938 to 2,559.

The 9th District representative, Democrat Lester Johnson of Black River Falls, will be opposed in November by Republican Dennis B. Danielson of Eau Claire. They were unchallenged in the primary.

Laird's vote topped Evans in Waupaca County 5,803 to 630; and in Shawano County 5,755 to 380.

Trial Set for Persons Charged With Killing Malformed Baby Girl

LIEGE, Belgium (AP) — Five persons, alleged to have taken part in killing a malformed baby girl last May, are to be tried before a Liege jury, the investigating court announced today.

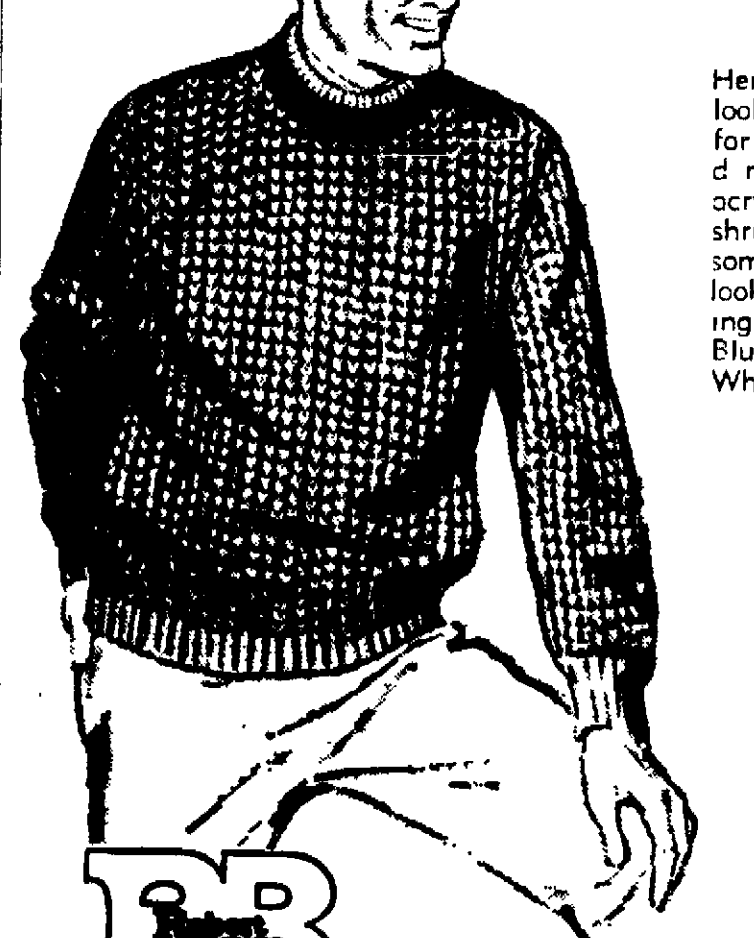

The trial is expected to open in November.

When It's Raining...A 5-Year-Old...

When you're five years old, and just starting school, the world's a bright new place, full of everything great and wonderful. Rain's not a nuisance — it's a play-thing. A maker of puddles, a bright varnish that makes rooftops glisten and streets shine like silver nickels.

Teachers know everything. They can button a rainhat better than anyone, except Mom, maybe. When teacher says, "Go right home," you do it. Besides, Mother made cookies today. Cookies would make any boy hurry home, even when it's raining!

But between the school and the kitchen table, there are yellow lines to be walked, carefully, because there's an old saying about lines, and when you're five, you can't be quite sure how true those old sayings are . . . and there are puddles to be jumped . . . unless they're too wide and have to be waded . . . and there are stones to be examined . . . and curbs for testing balance and worms that need inspection.

And then, when all those marvelous parts of a rainy day have been taken up and made part of your life, it's time for cookies and milk.

"Rain, Rain, go away . . . What did I learn today? Oh, nothing, I guess. Tomorrow we're going to hear a story about Africa!"

Gary Benner, Son of Mr. and Mrs. William Benner, 932 W. Lawrence St., came out of Jefferson School Monday morning, looked toward the sky and its gift of rain, said farewell to his teacher, Miss Ruth Laabs, and started for home. Along the way he indulged in the typical occupation of being a boy. After learning all he could along the way, Gary arrived home, assuring his mother he had hurried, and that, honest, he hadn't been bothered by the rain at all. (Post-Crescent Photos by Ralph Acker)

Newcomers Tell Luncheon Plans

Couple to Reside in Minnesota

Gary Dean Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerhard Anderson, Nelsonville, claimed Miss Elaine Marilyn Hagen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Hagen, Glenwood, Minn., as his bride in a 2:30 p.m. double ring ceremony Sept. 1 at Barness Lutheran Church, Glenwood. The Rev. Ronald Goldberg officiated.

Mrs. Odell Anderson served as matron of honor. Bridesmaid was Miss Karen Anderson, a sister of the bridegroom.

Best man was Neal Nottleson. Luther Tostengard acted as groomsmen. Kenneth Roen and Douglas Peterson seated the guests.

A reception was held in the church parlors. After a honeymoon to Lake Mille Lac, the couple will reside at 4210 Golden Valley Road, Minneapolis, Minn.

The bride was graduated from Glenwood High School and Luther College, Decorah, Iowa, where she was affiliated with Tau Delta Gamma sorority. Her husband was graduated from Amherst High School, Amherst, and Luther College.

59-Year-Old Women Calling Themselves 'Girls' Irks Man

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Will you please tell me how old women must be before they stop referring to themselves as "girls?"

My wife belongs to a card club which meets every other week. All these biddies are about the same age as my wife. Five of them went to school together, in fact. My wife is 59. We have eight grandchildren. Every woman in the club is a grandmother except one, and she never married.

You know very well that these old dames are not kids. Yet they refer to themselves as girls. This sounds so peculiar to me I wish you'd straighten them out. Thank you.—Doc

Dear Doc: A female is a girl as long as she lives, and she has a right to call herself one. This train runs both ways. Have you seen some of those bald-headed, paucy coos who want a night out with "the boys?" Well—same thing, Bab.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm 17 and going steady with a wonderful guy. At least I thought he was wonderful until last night. Mitch and I got into an argument over which TV channel to watch. All of a sudden he said "You're a spoiled brat!" And then he slapped me across the face. I was stunned. No fellow has ever done anything like that to me before. It was all I could do to hold back the tears.

I told Mitch to please leave, and he did, without saying a word. About an hour later the phone rang. I thought surely he must be calling to apologize. Instead he called to tell me that slapping me was evidence of his love—it proved I was "his woman." He says no man ever slaps a woman unless he really and truly loves her.

I've never heard of this idea. Have you? Please explain his theory so I can get it straight in my mind.—B. Wilderd

Dear B.: How lucky can you get—a fellow who loves you and is willing to prove it by slapping you across the face! One day this great love may flower into something truly magnificent—and then he'll prove it by knocking your teeth out.

Have nothing more to do with the bully. A girl who puts up with slaps during courtship can count on shiners, loose bridge-

Delegates Named By Legion Women

KAUKAUNA — Mrs. David Specht and Mrs. Alfred Marzahl were named delegates to the County Council dinner Sept. 18 at Seymour at a meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Alternates selected were Miss Margaret Courtney and Mrs. Fred Mason. Reservations may be made today with Mrs. Marzahl.

Plans were made to compile a recipe booklet to be sold at a Nov. 8 bazaar. Women will bring favorite recipes to the Sept. 20 meeting.

Plans to attend the fall area educational conference for Legion auxiliaries Sept. 26 at Green Bay were discussed.

In coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A Lovelier You

By Mary Sue Miller

What's Your Dream?

Do you long to develop a new interest or a hidden talent? But your work-a-day life makes this impossible?

Actually the most charming and successful women are those who manage to snatch bits of time to pursue some goal outside the daily routine. The busier those women are, the more they seem to accomplish in what leisure moments they can find.

In so doing, a few of them achieve fame and fortune. Women have become well-known artists, for example, as a result of making a hobby of painting in their spare time.

Every woman, however, gains much by enlarging her interests. She widens her perspective and becomes a more interesting person.

son. She finds the world a more exciting and happier place. Thus her value to her job, family and friends takes on increased meaning and value.

So whatever your job, or however hard you work at it, never let it consume your entire day or all your thoughts. Take a long look now at your schedule for the season ahead, and set a new goal for yourself. It can be frivolous or serious, dancing lessons or a music appreciation course. The point is to get going—to make the first move in some free minute today!

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

"MANY A SLIP"

A crystal glass shower was given for me recently. I received many pieces and almost all of them were monogrammed with my future initials. Our engagement has been broken. What is my obligation about returning them? Louise Davis Answers:

I don't see what else you can do but keep them, unhappily, unless you are lucky enough to find someone with the same initials. This is the risk that givers must take when ordering "future" monograms. It is somewhat safer after invitations to a wedding are issued. But during an engagement, there are many more slips between the cup and the lip. WIFE'S OBLIGATION My husband miraculously survived open heart surgery three years ago. He eventually went back to work and is doing fine. He has limitations and it is generally up to me to see that he observes them. The doctor has ordered that he retire early and all our friends know this. Invariably when we are at a small and informal dinner party, he never seems to get up the courage to leave. He says he doesn't want to be a "party pooper." I am always the one to suggest that we depart. I prefer him to do it, but he won't. As long as he feels this way, is it up to me? Louise Davis Answers:

'Yes. There is no one else but you to do it if your husband refuses. His health comes first.

Questions On Sewing

Sometimes I wonder how many women know what information can be found in the pattern books they look through constantly. I receive many letters with measurements asking me what size pattern to buy. Their authors could easily check the some source that I do. Take a look at the last, or next to the last page in any pattern catalogue. You'll see that measurements are given for every size category. I enjoy receiving the letters, but I'm sure my busy 10 patterns. If you are, long-waisted, a size 10, is the thing for you.

Q. The lower edge of my skirts all swing out toward the back. I have very large hips and I'm a little sway-backed. What can I do with all the dresses in my closet?

Mrs. F. N. A. You need some extra length in the back of your skirts. Following the diagrams: rip the back of the skirt at the waistline; let out any extra seam allowance; let the skirt drop at the back, straightening the grain and allowing the skirt to fall properly. If you don't have enough seam allowance, rip the waistline seam and lift the skirt in the front as in figure 2, until the crosswise grain around the hip line is straight and the skirt falls properly. Then, mark a new waistline, and stitch. If the grain line around the hips is straight, you may find that simply letting out the seams a bit will do the trick.

Q. How do you finish seams on double knits and how do you prevent stretching without using linings?

Mrs. M. M. A. Seams can be finished by (1) overcasting, (2) stitching on all seam allowances a little away from the raw edge, (3) binding raw edges with ribbon seam binding. You can't prevent stretching without underlining! (Copyright 1962)

Designing Woman

Covering Angled Walls

For the room with angled walls, both sides without being wrong choose a wallpaper that looks the same from all points of view—the walls' irregularities and styles right side up—upside down—and sideways. Use it all over the walls and ceiling and it won't make a bit of difference where walls end and the ceiling begins.

Mrs. R. C. brings up the question as the attic of her house is remodelled to add bedrooms. She describes walls angled twice and wants to know at which level the ceiling paper should begin. As usual, the first break from the vertical is too low to start a change from patterned paper to plain, but the answer is not to change anywhere. An all-over pattern of the type sketched can go up one wall, across the ceiling and down the other, and fill in at

Mrs. P. A. R. "Enclosed is a floor plan of two bedrooms, where I want to change all the colors except for the rugs. In the bedroom with brown mahogany furniture, the rug is gray. With tanque black walnut furniture, the rug is blue. Please suggest colors for wallpapers, curtains, bedspreads and upholstery for chairs."

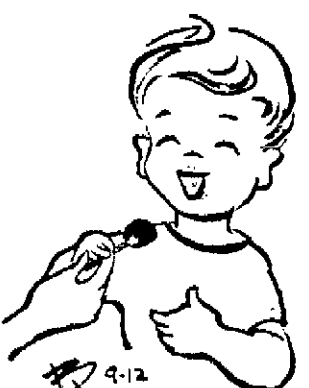

With only the rug and furniture wood colors to affect the schemes, good color possibilities are far too many to list. And the type of wallpaper makes so much difference—wallpapers come with various kinds and degrees of traditional and contemporary flavor, in both wide-spaced and dense patterns, in blending and sharply contrasting designs. Each type has a different effect on the room and color is affected by the pattern. But easiest of all color scheming is from pattern—choose a pattern and repeat colors in it.

Mrs. J. McM. "I've seen the rug I'd like for our living room, a brown, beige and white mixture with a little black in it, but would it look right or wrong with our sofa? The sofa has a cover that also mixes brown and beige, and has black flecks."

The rug and the sofa should be pleasing together if the sofa fabric is informal enough for the rug type, and if the two mixtures are sufficiently different. They shouldn't look as if an attempt to match them failed. The white in the rug and the difference in weaves may or may not avoid this effect. You might consider more definite patterning in the rug, and the possibility that the room will be improved by brighter color on the floor.

European Trip Mix-Up Ends Happily for Pair

Neenah Man on Post-Crescent Tour Battled Red Tape to Marry German

NEENAH — The slight inconvenience of a tangle in hotel reservations on the 1960 Post-Crescent European tour had a happy waiting period reduced to two solution for one of the Fox Cities weeks," he said.

"That was just the first half of the red tape — it was 14 weeks a second trip to Europe. Ray later that she flew to Chicago." Hoelzel, 1041 Gillingham Road, It took six weeks before Lola was and the German girl he met in able to secure the necessary passport. Holland, were married pers from the German government, then three weeks to get May 22 in Dusseldorf, Germany.

After battling red tape of both an appointment at the American and West German embassy. During the same period, Hoelzel, the former Roselotte Block, zel was required to submit a number of forms to the American government. The long wait ended when the couple was reunited at a Chicago airport last week.

Too Shy
The reservation mix-up which led to their meeting took place in Noordwijk. "The entire tour group was to stay at the Palace Hotel in Noordwijk, but because of a slight mix-up, eight or 10 of us went to the Rembrandt Hotel," Hoelzel recalled. "After dinner, several of us went into the hotel bar where a small orchestra was playing for dancing."

"I saw Lola at one side of the room, but was too shy to ask her to dance." After some testing and urging by a fellow tour-goer, Hoelzel danced with the blond and blue-eyed German girl and asked for her address to send pictures that were taken of the couple that evening. The address request led to a correspondence which continued until Ray's arrival in Germany this summer.

"Last fall I decided I should find a way to return to Germany and a graphic arts show in Dusseldorf seemed a perfect opportunity," said Ray, who is supervisor of litho positives and plate making at Marathon Division of American Can Co.

New House
The Neenah man believed the percentages to be in his favor and signed a contract for a new house before he began his trip. "Since I am on the conservative side, there was a provision the contract could be broken," he added.

Romance often follows a rocky road and in the Hoelzels' case, government regulations provided the obstacles. German rules require a 4-week waiting period for marriage with a foreigner. Since Ray was in Germany for three

Arson Suspected in Barn, Garage Fire
SHOTO, Wis. (AP) — Fire believed started by an arsonist destroyed a large L-shaped barn and a garage late Monday night on the farm of Harold Eis north of this Manitowish County community.

Flames destroyed 5,000 bales of hay, a plow, a hay crusher and other farming equipment in the barn. A 1950 automobile in the garage also was lost.

The fire was discovered shortly after 11 p.m. by Jim Franz as he returned home to the house on the farm. Franz told authorities a car pulled out of the driveway and sped away as he drove up.

Tense Nerves Block Bowels
New tonic-tablet laxative acts on colonic muscles... de-constipates overnight.

The muscular wall of your colon contains nerves known to medicine as Auerbach's Plexus. In regular people, these nerves tell the colon muscles to propel and expel waste from the body. But tense nerves or emotional upset can block your normal bowel habits. Your colon muscle impulses are no longer strong enough to eliminate waste which drives and shrinks, further aggravating the condition.

Relief, doctors say, lies in the non-irritating, de-constipating principle of a new tonic-tablet called COLONALD.

COLONALD relieves even chronic constipation overnight, is so gentle it was hospital-proved safe even to expectant mothers. Get COLONALD today. INTRODUCTORY SIZE 42¢.

New Books

Author Says Television 'Great Time-Killer'

A scathing indictment of television is presented in "The Great Time-Killer" by Andrew Mehling, the Junkers, Lt. von Andros (who one of the new books on display, has brought his family's glassware and silver with him to the front) down to the fanatical Corporal Fink (whose disfiguring wounds have made him mad to kill). Each of the characters represents a different attitude towards war, all of which Braun feels impelled to reject. The contrast between the healer and the killer is brought out in a book that was a great success in Europe.

New books of interest to those with a philosophical bent are "Story of Jewish Philosophy" by Joseph Leon Blau, and "New World of Philosophy" by Abraham Kaplan. Companion pieces to Fadiman's book are "Mathematics for Pleasure" by Oswald Jacoby and "Computer Revolution" by E. C. Berkeley.

Taking a close look at the language are "Families of Words" by Mario Andrew Pei, "Current American Usage" by Margaret Bryant, and "Proper Punctuation" by Kellogg Smith.

For the sports-minded are "Invitation to Sailing" by Alan Brown, "Tennis" by Pancho Gonzales, and "How to Keep Fit and Enjoy It" by W. R. Guild.

Also new are "Lewis and Clark Expedition" by Meriwether Lewis, "Secrets of Selling Yourself to People" by J. T. Mangan, "Poems" by Alan Dugan, "High Dam over Nubia" by Leslie Greener, "Vitamin Hunters" by Albert von Haller, and "History of the Roman People" by F. M. Heichelheim.

New novels include "Wind off the Sea" by David Beaty, "Kill with Kindness" by Robert Bloomfield, "Greater Hunger" by Barbara Dodge, "Inconstant Season" by Sally Daniels, "Wandering Windows" by Elizabeth Ferrars, "Sins of the Fathers" by Christian Geissler, "Lonely Conqueror" by Willi Heinrich, "Traffic with Evil" by Avery Johns, "Sol Myer" by Judah Leon Stamper, "Water and the Sound" by Gillian Tindall, and "To Love and Corrupt" by Joseph Viertel.

Contributor include Mark Twain, Lewis Carroll, Msgr. Ronald Knox and Bertrand Russell. Among the best is Isaac Asimov's "Feeling of Power" in which a technician living during the computer age astounds the scientific world by multiplying, dividing, adding and subtracting on paper, without the aid of a computer. "Torrents of War" by Igor Sentjurs is a brutal, powerful short novel, written by a Yugoslavian who served in the German army from 1943 on. He writes with sure knowledge and understanding of the education of a young German doctor in the horrors of war.

Karl Braun is sent to the Russian front as the German army crumbles after Stalingrad. As the book ends he is at the front as defeat passes into rout, as the wounded are left behind and as, finally, it becomes every man for himself.

The battle scenes are superb.

See Possibility of Write-in For Calumet Sheriff's Job

BY DON KAMPPER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
CHILTON — Undersheriff C. J. Kosmosky edged Ted Pagel Jr., by a scant 98 votes for Calumet County Sheriff on the Republican ticket in Tuesday's primary election.

Kosmosky polled 1,808 votes to 1,710 for Pagel in a contest that surprised local political observers. Kosmosky, serving as undersheriff while his wife, Lucille, finishes her second term as sheriff, was heavily favored in his bid for his fifth term. He earned 11

Doctor Sought In Girl's Death, Found in France

Teen-Ager Died From Operation in New York Office

PERPIGNAN, France (AP) — A New York law official flew to France today, seeking the return of Dr. Harvey Lothringer, a New York physician sought in the abortion death of a 19-year-old college girl.

Lothringer, 41, and his attractive secretary, Theresa Carillo, 24, were arrested Sunday in Andorra, a tiny state in the Pyrenees on the French-Spanish border. They were jailed in Perpignan, 65 miles to the east in France.

Queens County Dist. Atty. Philip Chetta flew from New York Monday night and said he would try to get Lothringer and Miss Carillo to return voluntarily.

Europe-Wide Alert
French police said the arrests followed a Europe-wide alert from Interpol, the international police organization. The couple disappeared three months ago a few days before parts of the dismembered body of Barbara Lofumento and the remains of an unborn baby were found in the sewer of Lothringer's $75,000 office home in Queens.

Lothringer described by U.S. authorities as a member of a New York abortion ring, was held on a warrant charging him with a 1961 abortion prior to Miss Lofumento's death.

No charges were filed against Miss Carillo, a former airline hostess described by authorities as the doctor's girl friend.

$500 for Abortion
U.S. authorities said Miss Lofumento was taken to Lothringer by her parents, who paid $500 in advance for the abortion. When the parents later sought the girl, she and the doctor had disappeared.

Lutheran Church Building to be Completed Soon

Construction of a Lutheran church building on Appleton's southeast side is nearing completion, according to the Rev. Henry Simon, spokesman for the Missouri Synod's North Wisconsin District which is sponsoring the building.

Only finishing touches need to be completed in the modern brick structure, which is located on a square block of district-owned property just east and north of the present end of E. College Avenue.

When formed later this year the new parish will be the first Protestant congregation in that part of Appleton, an area which is also being served by the recently-established St. Bernadette Catholic Church.

Other churches south of the Fox River are Sacred Heart Catholic Church and Riverview Lutheran Church. A third Lutheran congregation, sponsored by the Lutheran Church in America, is also currently in process of organization and is being planned to serve particularly the west section of the city south of the Fox River.

Appleton School Buses Pick Up Pupils at Private Road Entrances

Appleton public school buses serving the lakeshore area formerly part of the Harrison School District pick up pupils at the entrance of the private roads.

A story in the Tuesday Post-Crescent on an attachment hearing in Sherwood Monday said the Appleton and Kimberly school buses pick up the pupils at a tavern. The Kimberly buses have an official pick-up station across the road from the tavern but the Appleton buses do not.

A statement calling "irregular" the fact that five children from the lakeshore area of the Appleton school district are attending school in Kimberly was incorrectly attributed to Mrs. Carl Smith, route 1, Menasha, in the story of the county's 17 precincts, but many were by a small margin.

Pagel was given tremendous support in his home city of New Holstein, where he had spent the last six years as a policeman. New Holstein electors gave him 447 votes compared with 147 for Kosmosky. Pagel also carried Harrison, Charlestown and New 12th Ward and Stockbridge village.

2 to 1 Support
Brillion Township and city. Rantoul, Hilbert and Chilton's Second Precinct gave Kosmosky 2 to 1 support.

In traditionally Republican Calumet County the GOP primary victory would generally be considered tantamount to election, especially with no Democratic candidate for sheriff. His strong showing, however, may prompt Pagel to run as an independent in November, observers feel.

The race for sheriff was the only contest for county office. Republican incumbents running unopposed and their vote totals include:

Large Crossover
Treasurer Merlin G. Zahn, 2,700.
Coroner Leroy Hughes, 2,683.
Clerk of Court Math Miles, 2,724.
Dist. Atty. F. J. Schmieder, 2,712.
Democratic incumbents running unopposed include County Clerk Roland E. Miller, 441. Register of Deeds Mrs. Germaine Hume, 388 and Surveyor Raymond Jensen, 377.

A Democratic candidate for treasurer, Gervase Hephner, received 399 votes.

The Democratic vote was extremely light because of the lack of local interest contests. There was a heavy crossover to the Republican ballot which held contests for sheriff and assembly.

Jung Re-Elected Menasha Library Board President

MENASHA — Ferd A. Jung was reelected president of the Elsie D. Smith Library board at a meeting held in the September meeting. Mrs. H. A. Heller was named vice president and Mrs. John Wilterding was elected secretary.

Plans for remodeling the library were also discussed. Indications are that funds for the project might possibly come from two primary sources: private contributions and a municipal budget appropriation.

Suggestions were also presented concerning salaries to be budgeted for the library staff in 1963. In connection with this a meeting of the library board's salary committee was held for the purpose of discussing state library recommendations for minimum salary standards.

A meeting of the Fox River Valley Library Administrators is to be held Friday in Green Bay with Mrs. Dorothy Weber authorized by the library board to attend the session. Notice was also given concerning the Wisconsin Library Association's annual convention in Milwaukee Oct. 11-13.

42 Pct. in Neenah Cast Ballots

NEENAH — Voter turnout for Tuesday's primary was 41.9 of the number of registered voters. City Clerk R. V. Hauser reported today. A total of 3,620 voters went to the polls out of a possible 8,641.

The voter turnout by wards was: First Ward 47.1 for 57.2 per cent. Second Ward 27.9 for 36.2 per cent. Third Ward 22.3 for 34.5 per cent. Fourth Ward 31.1 for 37.7 per cent. Fifth Ward 45.8 for 47.7 per cent. Sixth Ward 31.9 for 27.6 per cent. Seventh Ward 29.5 for 36.5 per cent. Eighth Ward 43.0 for 42.5 per cent. Ninth Ward 54.1 for 48.5 per cent. and 10th Ward 29.3 for 36.3 per cent.

Man Facing Four Charges of Trying To Kill His Bride

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — A former Hungarian freedom fighter was scheduled to be arraigned here today on four counts of torturing and trying to murder his beautiful young bride.

The Santa Clara County grand jury returned a quadruple indictment Tuesday against Dr. Geza deKaplany, 36, charging him with attempted murder, mayhem, attack with corrosive acid and assault with a deadly weapon.

Hanja deKaplany, 25, also a Hungarian, was critically burned and maimed two weeks ago when her husband bound her, slashed her with a butcher knife and daubed her with acid. They had been married five weeks. She denied even thinking of the infidelity he claimed led to his attack.

Dr. deKaplany was unable to make bail of $52,000. A suicide watch has been set at his cell. Blinded in one eye and still in critical condition, Mrs. deKaplany is in St. Francis Hospital in San Francisco.

Gets Waupun Term For Drunkenness

Earl Besaw, 51, 738 W. Franklin St., was sentenced Tuesday to an indeterminate sentence up to three years at Waupun State prison when he appeared in Outagamie County Court, Branch 2, charged as a repeater.

Besaw had been arrested Sunday by Appleton police and charged with drunkenness. The charge was the fourth state warrant against him in one year and he was classified him as a repeater which carries a state prison sentence.

Besaw pleaded guilty to charges

New London Union Given Strike Authority

McGraw Edison Workers Seeking Hikes in Wages

NEW LONDON — Members of Local 642 of the International Union of McGraw Edison workers voted Tuesday night to give the union bargaining committee authority to call a strike at the local plant.

In a telegram last week the union was authorized to strike by its national affiliate.

The workers are asking a 3 cent per hour increase for bonus workers and a 10 cents per hour wage hike for day workers plus the strengthening of the incentive clause in the contract. John Johnson, local union president, said the incentive workers did not have enough protection in the two-year contract expired July 1. The incentive workers clause was not clearly defined, he said.

The vote was taken at a meeting at the American Legion Club house 134 to 4 to give the bargaining committee power to strike. There are 250 employees at the plant, in an interview this division, sponsoring unit of the morning called the union demands unfair in light of present business

The rest of the estate was composed of the home, a half-interest in the store building at 108-112 W. Wisconsin Ave., interest in the Episcopal Church of Menasha.

Boat Overturns At Gas Station; Youth Injured

An 18-year-old youth received minor injuries when the boat he was sitting in overturned, at a northside Appleton filling station.

Jack Block, 1208 N. Superior St., was hurt when a rowboat tipped over and slid 30 feet on its top when it was being hauled into a filling station about midnight behind an automobile. The car was driven by Gerald Smith, also of 1208 N. Superior St., from the driveway of his home to a gas station at Superior and Wisconsin Ave.

Block received bumps and skinned knuckles when the boat flipped off the trailer and was dragged behind the car after the car hit a bump at the service station ramp.

Block said he would be treated by a doctor. He said he and Smith were planning an early morning fishing trip and had not secured the trailer properly before they drove to the station to buy gasoline.

Late Oshkosh Knitting Co. Head Leaves $703,127

OSHKOSH — George Madison, retired head of the Jersild Knitting Co., Neenah, and retired tailor who died June 12, 1961, left an estate of $703,127, according to the inventory filed with Winnebago County Probate Judge Herbert J. Mueller.

Madison was survived by his widow, Mrs. Belle Madison, 307 E. Wisconsin Ave., Neenah, and a daughter, Mrs. William Sprague Eddy, Oshkosh.

Madison held 13,460 shares of stock in the Consolidated Waterquest, will go in trust to the Power and Paper Co. with a value of $635,985 at the time of the inventory.

The rest of the estate was composed of the home, a half-interest in the store building at 108-112 W. Wisconsin Ave., interest in the Episcopal Church of Menasha.

Cuba Threat Slows Action in Berlin

Almost Four Years Since Reds Created First German Crisis

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Premier Lin wall built. Khrushchev is such a good actor. Neither side looked particularly that when he shook his fist Tuesday in that one. day over Cuba the immediate West stood idly by, doing American reaction was what's he nothing to tear down the wall; doing to us?—instead of noticing and Khrushchev's wall was a sorry what he did to himself. admission to the rest of the world. What he did to himself was to that Russia had to walk in the postpone once again a showdown East Germans to keep them from over Berlin. The Russians said fleeing communism. they were willing to wait until aft- The West has been deadily tough er the American election in No- with Russia for years, using a vember before resuming talks on high-sounding approach called the German city. containment.

This was buried in a yard of threats and propaganda about Cuba.

Postpone Action
It's been almost four years now since Khrushchev cooked up the first Berlin crisis, Nov. 27, 1958. He set a six-month deadline then for a settlement. At the end of that time, getting no action, he postponed the deadline.

Again in 1960, in the midst of pressing for a Berlin solution, he had a blow-up with President Eisenhower over the shooting down of an American U2 spy plane over Russia. Again he backed away from a showdown.

He said he could wait until after the 1960 presidential elections and deal with Eisenhower's successor.

Met Successor
In 1961, after his Vienna meeting with President Kennedy, Khrushchev set up another six-month deadline on Berlin. Again the deadline passed and Khrushchev said he had never intended it as an ultimatum.

If these pieces are put together they seem to indicate the Russians are no more anxious for a war over Berlin than the Americans are, although there can be no doubt the Soviets would grab the city if they thought they'd get away with it.

Concerned With Looks
Khrushchev, never a slow-witted patsy, has to be concerned with how he looks to the rest of the world. This may explain to some degree why, when this country sounds tough, he tries to sound tougher.

On June 25, 1961, after his Vienna talk with Khrushchev, Kennedy in a nationwide broadcast showed his stern side. This may have surprised the Russian and was certainly popular in this country.

The President called for a military build-up and speed-up, with men and money.

Orders Wall Built
Within less than two weeks Khrushchev was on the air talking to the Russian people. He called for an increase in Soviet military spending and a month

PET DOCTOR

Q. My young son had two goldfish given to him. I was told it would be all right to leave them for two weeks when we go on holidays. I was told they would live on food left in the water from daily feedings. I would be pleased to have your opinion on this. Mrs.

N. G. Tuddenham, Vancouver, B. C.
A. It isn't safe to leave goldfish for two weeks without attention. The water will evaporate and need replenishing. It will lose its oxygen content and the fish will suffer. You should feed them only what food they will eat in a few hours. Any excess food left in the bowl would decay, causing pollution. There would not be enough food after a very few days. Arrange with a neighbor to care for the goldfish while you're away. Be sure to instruct them not to over-feed the fish.

Racine Schools Offer Teachers Leave With Pay

Other State Officials Study 1-Year Stipend For Advanced Study

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — A sabbatical leave rule for the public school teachers of the city of Racine is attracting interest of other Wisconsin school officials.

The program in Racine which provides for leave with partial pay for study and self-improvement of faculty in the public schools is described at length in the current bulletin of the Wisconsin Association of School Boards. Teachers with six years of service and a Master's degree or more are eligible for one year of leave which would pay a stipend of $3,175, on the basis of the present faculty pay schedule. The leaves are limited annually to two per cent of the school faculty holding the Master's degree. Teaching, supervisory and administrative workers are eligible. The leaves are granted only for professional study plans which are approved by the school superintendent. The board rule declares that such leaves "shall be granted as a privilege to personnel and promise and only for the purpose of definitely improving instruction in the Racine unified schools."

Paid leave policy in Wisconsin public education is comparatively rare.

Some higher educational institutions elsewhere have such programs, but they have not yet been introduced into the Wisconsin college and university system. The faculty association of the state colleges has asked for considera-

Less Demand For Workers Is Reported

Home Construction Slowdown Blamed In Part for Trend

Less demand for workers in Outagamie - Waupaca counties is seen by the Wisconsin State Employment Service.

During August, the Appleton office, serving the two counties, referred 332 workers to employers. This compares with 278 for July and 319 for August, 1961. Of these 332, 145 were hired compared to 141 for July and 283 for 1961. The active file on workers totals 1,717 compared with 1,404 for July and 1,193 in 1961. Fred Gehrke, Appleton manager, attributed the increase in number of workers available to the decrease in residential construction and the general overall lack of work opportunities.

Most of hiring in August was in construction, general manufacturing and retail and wholesale trade.

Although fewer job openings are seen, Gehrke also pointed out that with the end of summer there will be fewer workers as students return to school.

Young Business Man: YOUR CARRIER

David Springer, 808 N. Drew St., is listed in Post-Crescent circulation files as Appleton news-carrier number 26.

This is the route that covers the 600 through 1100 blocks of N. Drew St. and adjoining portions of the 500 through 700 blocks on N. Bateman and N. Union streets, plus portions of East Commercial, Hancock, Spring and Atlantic streets. David's success in building a large clientele has his brother eyeing the route with keen anticipation. Four other brothers and three sisters set up the possibility of the carrier business remaining in the family for many more years.

Dave, a senior this year at Xavier High School and a member of St. Therese Church, is keenly interested in sports, places football and basketball at the top. He also enjoys archery, fishing and hunting, woodcraft and putting together model ships and planes.

His substantial earnings allow Dave to wisely distribute his money over the purchase of clothes, school tuition, a mple spending money and a savings account.

Former Councilman At Weyauwega Dies
WEYAUWEGA — A former member of the city council, Frank O. Radtke, 60, died early Tuesday at his home.

He served two terms on the council and was president of the Waupaca County Board of Realtors. Radtke also was an officer of St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Church Group to Hold Annual Conference for Laymen in Green Lake

The 16th annual Laymen's Conference will be held at Green Lake Friday through Sunday. The yearly meeting is sponsored by the Division of United Men's Work of the Wisconsin Council of Churches. The main speakers and discussion leaders will include George A. Buttrick, James H. Robinson, Gertrude M. Puelicher, Allen G. Wehrli and Arvo E. Vaurio. E. A. Dettman, Appleton, is serving on the arrangements committee for the meeting.

'Friends' Supply Ships For Cuba, Russia Trade

Y VICTOR RUSSEL.
On the New York Waterfront:—There now is detailed evidence in this columnist's hands to prove that the shipyards of the very same nations which cost us millions to rehabilitate are the home berths of the ships now carrying Communist cargo to Cuba to debilitate us. This is the first such specific information available in the U.S. Here are the names of some of the ships I believe should be blacklisted from all U.S. ports unless they cease working for the enemy:
Two of the vessels most important to the Soviet's five-to-six-thousand mile supply line to Cuba are the Westfalen and the Atlas. They are West German. Thus, while some of the German Federal Republic's leaders wall over the Wall in Berlin, they permit their own freighters to carry cargo for the Communist leaders who erected the concrete fence through the heart of the besieged city.

Cargo to Cuba
On Aug. 28 the Westfalen was in the port of Leningrad taking on vital industrial cargo for the Sovietizing of Cuba.
On the same day, the "big steamer" Atlas had just completed its cargo taking and was awaiting the signal to steam as swiftly as possible to Havana. That was in Riga, "capital" of Latvia, one of the nations seized by the Stalinists.
Also on the same day the steamship Airone, sailing under the Italian flag, was at the dock in Novorossiisk awaiting cargo assigned to several Cuban ports. And the Greeks, who have complained to me so bitterly over our cut in cash aid, have chartered the Parnon to the Russians.

The Nerse, who know well the incense brutality of totalitarianism, have nonetheless chartered the Tove Lillian to the Soviet Ministry of the Maritime Fleet. The Tove Lillian was in Leningrad Port on Aug. 28.
Destination: Cuba. And on that day in the Black Sea port of Odessa were the San Nicholas and the Tarsus. The first craft runs the flag of Lebanon, which only recently pledged such fervent friendship to Vice President Johnson. The second freighter is from Liberia, no less—an American-made nation. Without us it would long ago have foundered.
These are but a few of the 105 USSR port today one will see re-ships ready to sail for Cuban Communist island in the Caribbean. Furthermore they are making it possible for Cuba to keep its vital sugar industry going. It is this money making product which enables the Havana regime to maintain some kind of economy.

carry industrial equipment, flour, paper, and fertilizer to Cuba. Our own intelligence sources have learned that the already heavily stretched Russian merchant fleet was inadequate to supply Cuba under the emergency Soviet program. Thus, without the international friends, the Moscow timetable would have cracked.
But, I'm told by maritime workers leaders, including seafarers and longshoremen on this waterfront whose global "grapevine" has traditionally been accurate—that an even more precious "cargo" is being carried by the foreign flag ships. Some of the vessels have passenger facilities. In the past few months they have helped to transport "some of the four to five thousand Cuban children and slightly older students to Iron Curtain lands for Cuban brainwashing and upbringing as Communist youth cadres. They will be returned to the Cuba in anywhere from 10 months to five years."
Some of our friends would do well to zip up their pockets before they open up their mouths about the global menace.

Post Office Facility Bids Requested for Village of Wrightstown
WRIGHTSTOWN — Competitive bids are being sought by the Post Office Department for new or improved postal quarters under a rental agreement in the village.
Under the program the bidder will provide the site and construct or remodel the building according to department specifications.
Information on bidding and facilities desired will be available Sept. 14 from the regional real estate officer in Duluth, Minn.

Jail Better Than A Safe for Savings
SHENANDOAH, Pa. (AP)—Police found Anthony A. Gatavakas, 45, a miner, asleep on the pavement. They carried him to jail, removed an old cloth bag from a trouser pocket and discovered $13,260.88 in cash.
When he awakened Gatavakas said he had spent the weekend visiting bars here. His first stop on leaving jail was a bank to deposit his life savings.

21 Poll Workers At Clintonville
CLINTONVILLE — Twenty-one persons worked at the election boards in the city Tuesday.

Berra's Homer in 10th Leads Yanks Past Tigers, 8-7

Angels Take Second Place From Minnesota on 9-0 Triumph

BY JIM RACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

During the years a decade or so ago when Ralph Houk was a reserve catcher under Yogi Berra, Yogi's specialty was winning games for the New York Yankees with vital hits.

Now, Houk is boss of the Yankees and Berra's a second string catcher—but Yogi's still winning games with clutch hits.

He connected for one Tuesday night, a 10th-inning home run that carried the Yanks to a 8-7 victory over the Detroit Tigers and inched them a bit further in front in the drive for their 27th American League pennant.

Berra came off the bench as a pinch batter in the eighth and delivered a run with a sacrifice fly as the Yankees scored three times for a 7-5 lead. The Tigers countered with two runs in their half of the inning and Berra, who stayed in the game as a replacement for first-stringer Elston Howard, got his next crack in the 10th.

350th of Career
He responded with a shot into Tiger Stadium's upper right field seats off rookie reliever Bob Humphreys—the 350th home run of his 17-season career.

By winning the cliff hanger, the Yankees moved four games ahead of the Los Angeles Angels, who took second place away from Minnesota with a second straight shutout over the Twins, 9-0. In the only other American League action, Cleveland blanked Washington 3-0 behind Jim Perry's sixth-hit pitching.

The Yankees raced off to a 4-0 lead against Frank Lary but saw their advantage disappear quickly in the fourth when the Tigers ripped Jim Coates and Roland Sheldon for seven hits, the first six in succession.

Berra's fly, Tony Kubek's single and a ground out chased in the three New York runs in the eighth, but again the Tigers roared back, knotting it when Dick McAuliffe homered and Chico Fernandez tripled in a run. Jim Bouton, the Yanks' sixth pitcher, held Detroit the rest of the way.

Kubek collected four hits, including a homer and triple, among the Yankees' 15 while Mickey Mantle and Bobby Richardson had three each.

Bantam Champion Runs Knockout Streak to 13

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—Eder Jofre of Brazil, the little man with lightning in his fists, is even tougher the second time around, Jose Mendel of Mexico ruefully decided today.

Two years ago in Los Angeles, Jofre knocked Medel out in the 10th round. Tuesday night, Medel stepped in the ring with Jofre in a scheduled 15-rounder for the world bantamweight championship.

This time, Jofre knocked Medel out in 1:05 of the sixth round, a four-round improvement.

Jofre is unbeaten in 46 fights and now has run his knockout streak to 13. This was Jofre's second defense of his title since gaining clear-cut recognition as the world's top 118-pounder last January. He stopped Herman Marquez on a 10th round TKO on May 4.

Well in Hand
From the first round, it was apparent that Jofre had the situation well in hand. He held back, merely stalking his opponent until the fifth round. Then he let loose a barrage of lefts and rights and Medel hit the deck as the round ended.

No sooner had the sixth got under way than Jofre came out of his corner, caught Medel with a vicious right and the Mexican sagged against the ropes. Then he rushed in with short jabs to the head. That finished Medel and he went down for good.

Jofre weighed 117½, Medel 117.

'Nobody Wins 16 in a Row'

Sanford Says Records Mean Nothing to Him

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Burly Jack Sanford never dreamed he'd win 16 games in a row.

"This is ridiculous," declared the fiercely competitive San Francisco pitcher. "Sixteen in a row. Nobody wins 16 in a row."

Yet he'd done it with a 2-0 shutout over the Pittsburgh Pirates Tuesday that put his season record at 22-6, a big reason the Giants are battling for the pennant.

"I thought my biggest pitch was the one to Dick Groat in the eighth. It was a slider and he popped it up. Groat is one of the toughest to get out with men on base."

There were two on at the time and Groat made the second out. Sanford finished the inning by striking out dangerous Bob Skinner.

"I got him on a so-so fast ball," the pitcher recounted. "He got out in front of it and missed."

"We used the fast ball most of the time. Burgess and Virdon both hit my curves so I went with the fast ball."

San Francisco Giant second baseman Chuck Hiller leaves both his baseball cap and his protective helmet behind as he stretches a grounder down the right field foul line into a double in the first inning of Tuesday's game with the Pittsburgh Pirates in Candlestick Park. Pirate shortstop Dick Groat (24) covers second base on the play. The Giants won, 2-0. (AP Wirephoto)

Chuters Risk 5-Season Win Streak Against Kimberly '11'

Both Teams Have Heavy Lines For Friday Night's Encounter

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

KIMBERLY — Coach Jim Nirschl, of Kimberly High School's football team, and head mentor Bill Fitzpatrick, of Little Chute St. John, will send their respective gridiron units against each other for the ninth successive season here at 8 p.m. Friday.

Nirschl is in his ninth season as Papermaker coach, while Fitzpatrick is starting his 12th season of leading the Dutchmen.

Both teams have heavy lines dotted with lettermen, but the Papermakers may rate a slight edge because of their backfield speed and experience. St. John lost practically its entire back-

Nirschl lost his outstanding quarterback, Tom Roovers, through graduation, but junior Dennis Kroner is set to fill his shoes.

Hurst Returns
Injuries to key players have lifted some of the St. John drills. Starting quarterback Dan Hurst was out of action for over a week and first returned to the field Monday for the Chuters.

Fitzpatrick is not sure if he will work up to full steam and has been working a sophomore in the spot. Two other injured Chuter players have returned to workouts and appear to be ready for the Kimberly tilt. Center Gene Van Lankvelt has recovered from a knee injury and Jim Romonesko, tackle, out with a shoulder injury, is back.

A fourth letterman who was sidelined, Jerry Schaefer, will be lost for the season. A broken thumb did not heal properly and will require surgery.

Kimberly appears to be in top physical condition with all key personnel ready to go. Nirschl said several players have suffered bumps and bruises along the way but none have been serious enough to miss drills.

The starting backfield for Kimberly will probably have Kroner calling signals with Tom Bogenstutz and Hal Wentzel at halfbacks with Keith Buchberger or Genn Wildenberg at fullback.

Kimberly Lineup
Lee Levknecht and Jerry Wynn-gaard will be at ends for the Papermakers, tackles will probably be Dennis Segers and Dave Mitchell or Mike Roemer, at the guards will be Ed Van Nuland and Joe Kaufman or John Hengel and Wes Vander Velden at center.

The Chuters will have Hurst or Mike Weyenberg at quarterback, Bruce Hammen and Larry Van Lankvelt at halfbacks and Jay Lamers at fullback.

In the line, Bruce Langedyke and Gib Hietpas will be at ends, Jim Draheim and Jim Romonesko or Bob Versteegen will be at tackles, Jerry Verbeten and Wayne Baumgart at guards and Gene Van Lankvelt at center.

Dodgers Still Half Game Ahead in NL

BY MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Lithe Maury Wills of Los Angeles and chunky Jack Sanford of San Francisco, two guys who rely on speed, have kept the first-place Dodgers and runner-up Giants only a half-game apart in that National League pennant chase while continuing in pursuit of half-century-old records.

Wills, the fleet Dodgers' shortstop, stole his 90th base, scored one run and drove in another with his 15th hit in 20 at-bats while Stan Williams and Ron Perrano-ski combined for a three-hitter in a 3-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs Tuesday night.

Sanford, the fireballing Giants' pitcher, kept San Francisco right behind, scattering eight hits in a

Colts Release Myhra As NFL Teams Reduce Rosters to 36 Players

Nate Borden and Rookies Ballman, Hatcher Also Cut

BY JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Any big kick the Baltimore Colts have coming this year won't be done by Steve Myhra, but may well come from the direction of their training room.

Myhra, who put the foot in Baltimore's football history with his clutch field goal in the 1958 National Football League title game, was released Tuesday as the Colts and other NFL teams pared their rosters to the regular season maximum of 36 players.

And while releasing Myhra, the Colts also asked waivers on veteran all-pro halfback Lenny Moore with the intention of putting him on the injured reserve list. Moore, playing a running halfback slot after years as a flanker back, cracked his left kneecap last Sunday in an exhibition game and will be out for six to eight weeks.

Moore Joins Perry

Moore joins fullback Joe Perry, 2-0 triumph over Pittsburgh for the NFL's all-time ground gainer, his 220 victory of the season—on the injured list. Perry was hurt in an earlier exhibition game and placed on waivers. The loss of these two puts a serious crimp in Coach Weeb Ewbank's offense plans.

But perhaps Ewbank didn't feel Myhra's loss would be as keenly felt, now that he has veteran Dick Bielecki and rookie Wendell Harris of Louisiana State around to handle the kicking chores.

Such wasn't the case in the final 17 seconds of the '58 title game when Myhra rushed onto the Yankee Stadium turf and kicked a last 20-yard field goal that tied the New York Giants 17-17 and forced the first sudden death playoff in NFL history. The Colts won the title some eight minutes later on an elusive record of 19 straight victories, set by Tim Keefe of Myhra, in five years with the New York in 1888 and matched Colts, booted 180 of 190 extra point attempts and 44 of 91 field goal tries for 312 points. Last year, he set a team record with 21 field goals and 96 points.

He had one other distinction, too. He was the only NFL player ever to play football against home

Jim Nettles Injured in Badger Drill

MADISON (AP) — Injuries continued to hamper the University of Wisconsin football team Tuesday as Coach Milt Bruhn lost his second first team tackle this week, Jim Nettles, with a leg injury.

On Monday first team quarterback Ron VanderKelen of Green Bay, bruised his passing shoulder. Thirteen players are out with injuries. Most of them are expected to be back within a week.

Sophomore quarterback Harold Brandt, Hinsdale, Ill., has taken over the first team spot and another sophomore, Carl Silvestri, Shorewood, has filled in at left halfback for Nettles, who is from Muncie, Ind.

In Tuesday's workouts Bruhn continued to give his offense most of the work. After last Saturday's American League game-type scrimmage Bruhn lead to four games over second showed dissatisfaction with the offense. He did like what he saw defensively, however.

Bruhn had tentatively planned another game-type scrimmage for his 22nd game of season and 16th Saturday but will wait until later in the week to make a decision place San Francisco a half-game behind National League leading players come around.

Ringo Claims Bays 'Ready' Since Playoff

Smallest NFL Center Has Not Missed Game Since 1953

GREEN BAY (AP)—The Green Bay Packers have been ready for this season's opening game kickoff to defend their National Football League title since mopping up the New York Giants in last year's title game says all-pro Packer center Jim Ringo.

The Packers' will get a chance to back up Ringo's statement on Sunday when they open defense of their NFL title against the Minnesota Vikings in City Stadium here.

Tuesday the Packers slimmed down to the 36 player limit by placing rookie end Oscar Donahue of San Jose State on waivers. Donahue had been the Packers' sixth draft choice.

When asked what the Packers' perfect pre-season record meant, Ringo, a 10 year veteran replied, "It simply means that we're on our way. A championship team has desire and pride no matter if it's a pre-season game or the real thing."

Smallest Center

At 229 pounds Ringo is the smallest center in the National Football League. But what Ringo lacks in size he more than makes up with his mobility and endurance. Endurance so amazing he has not missed a game since his rookie year in 1953.

The perennial all-pro is a symbol of what makes the champions click. He has a dedication which has kept him on top since starting in the league.

Each year Coach Vince Lombardi keeps his eye on the top talent, regardless of rookie or veteran.

Four rookies thus survived final cuts. They are fullback Earl Gros, Louisiana State; guard Ed Blaine, Missouri; end Gary Barnes, Clemson, and tackle Ron Gassert, Virginia. They are the club's four top draft choices.

In Tuesday's drill Lombardi put his squad through a workout aimed at defending against the attack of the Vikings. All players, except end Max McGee who had an overnight stay in a hospital for observation of a stomach disorder, suited up.

followed up Dean Chance's one-hitter of the night before. Grba limited the Twins to four singles over seven innings and Lee turned them back without a hit over the last two.

Kaat Is Loser

The Angels tagged Jim Kaat, the league's winningest shutout, for four runs in the first seven innings and poured across five more in a ninth inning spree against Jerry Arango and Ray Moore. Lee Thomas capped that burst with a three-run double, giving him four runs batted in for the day. Kaat's record is now 16-13.

The Indians won their fourth in a row and dealt the Senators their fourth straight loss on Perry's tight pitching. Max Alvis, playing his first game in the majors, drove in the opening Cleveland run with his first big league hit, a fourth inning single off Claude Osteen. Woodie Held homered for the Indians in the seventh.

Fullmer's Pilot Wins Election

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Marv Jensen, manager of NBA middle-weight champion Gene Fullmer, also is a winner.

Jensen defeated William Larson in the Utah Democratic primary Tuesday for a two-year term on the Salt Lake County Commission. Larson is now chairman of the commission.

Jensen, a well-to-do West Jordan mink rancher, operates a free gymnasium near his home and campaigned on the slogan, "With youth in mind." Fullmer helped in the campaign and appeared with Jensen in campaign pictures.

Kuharich Has 14 Lettermen

Notre Dame to Meet 8 Higher-Ranked Foes

BY JERRY LISKA

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Notre Dame's football success this season, unless the script plays better than it reads, will be unusual if it betters last season's even break of 5-5.

With good reason, the Irish just barely made the top 25 lists in The Associated Press preseason poll in the 24th spot.

And Joe Kuharich's fourth Notre Dame edition must meet eight foes ranked higher, including (No. 4) Michigan State and (No. 7) Purdue, while the two other opponents, Northwestern and Iowa, easily could crash into national notice.

Trying To Forget

Kuharich, still trying to forget a dismal 2-8 campaign only two seasons ago, seems to be stating the obvious in commenting "We don't have the potential of last year's team at this time."

Already hard-hit by ineligibility of junior halfbacks Paul Costa and Jim Snowden, both swift 205-pounders, the Irish offense could be severely hobbled if captain-fullback Mike Lind's surgery-treated knee is not sound.

"We still haven't put pressure on Lind," said Kuharich "and we probably won't until the end of this week to see if he can go top speed in the Oklahoma opener (Sept. 29). He may not be right until the third game." The Irish meet Purdue Oct. 6 and their third foe Oct. 13 is Wisconsin, back on Notre Dame's schedule after a long lapse. Two more Big Ten opponents follow, Michigan State and Northwestern, making it four in a row against rugged Western Conference competition, before Notre Dame starts the second half of the season against Navy Nov. 3.

'Very Light Team'

Pittsburgh, North Carolina, Iowa and Southern California round out the scheduled Kuharich must tackle with "a very light team which might develop."

Only 14 lettermen return, so Kuharich must starch his team considerably with inexperienced juniors and sophomores, especially in the line interior.

Of the returning veterans, besides Lind—second leading Irish rusher last year with a 5.2 average—The key performers may be quarterback Daryle Lamonica, a senior, and long-throwing Frank Budka, a junior.

"We need good leadership from four quarterbacks," said Kuharich, "we could be much improved — but they'll have to give standout performances each Saturday." Gerry Gray, is Lind's fullback alternate, while the halfbacking—sorely missing graduated Angelo Dabiero—will be shared by Charlie O'Hara, Tom McDonald, Ed Rutkowski, Frank Minik, Dennis Phillips and Bill Pfeiffer.

Thursday Night's Game: Denmark at Shiocton.
Friday's Games: Hilbert at Winneconne (afternoon), Wrightstown at Freedom (afternoon), Reedsville at Omro (night).

Defending co-champion Freedom will run into another stiff Little Nine Conference test Friday when the Irish entertain an improved Wrightstown High School team in an afternoon game.

Co-champion Denmark will be at Shiocton in a Thursday night contest. In other Friday tilts, Hilbert will be at Winneconne in the afternoon and Reedsville at Omro at night.

Freedom opened the season last week by downing Denmark, 18-0, and thereby served notice that it will be a solid contender for the 1962 crown.

Wrightstown scored a 7-0 win over Hortonville and could prove bothersome for the Irish.

Hilbert, which made its conference debut against Reedsville, a success last week, will be at Winneconne. The latter will be playing its first league game after drawing last week's bye.

Omro's veteran unit, sporting 14 lettermen, will be favored to notch its second straight win at Reedsville's expense. Omro topped Shiocton by a big margin last week.

Australians Hurry to Repair Gretel for America's Cup Race

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Can the other during their practice runs Australians get all the bugs out, and engaged in an impromptu of Gretel in time for Saturday's 15-minute run to windward. The opening of the 18th challenge for the America's Cup?

This was the question yachtsmen bandied about today after the Aussie challenger's boom snapped Vim on Rhode Island Sound. The two boats were running under spinnakers when Gretel's aluminum boom snapped about eight feet back of the mast. At the time they were in winds of close to 30 knots and the boom was at almost right angles to the to go before the showdown with the American defender, Weatherly.

During the past several days, designer Alan Payne and his associates have been working diligently to make changes in the boat's equipment. One of these changes involved the moving of the mast about a foot and a half—a major alteration and one considered an admission of desperation by many of the experts here. Additionally, on Monday Gretel and Weatherly came upon each other to take.

The latest misfortune occurred Tuesday during a workout with Vim on Rhode Island Sound. The two boats were running under spinnakers when Gretel's aluminum boom snapped about eight feet back of the mast. At the time they were in winds of close to 30 knots and the boom was at almost right angles to the to go before the showdown with the American defender, Weatherly.

The original boom was sent to Fall River, Mass., for repairs. As a result of the damage, Gretel and Vim confined their activities to Newport Harbor and did not venture farther out to sea. Payne was mildly upset by the turn of events, saying: "Either I didn't design the boom strong enough or the boys put it under greater strain than it was intended to take."

Haiti Government Like Spanked Child

Nation Grows Resentful Toward U. S. Because Aid Is Cut Off

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—Haiti's government, like a spanked child, is threatening to kick Uncle Sam in the shins.

Uncle Sam, in effect, has deprived him of his candy — and Papa Doc, according to responsible people who claim to have heard him say it, intends to "bring President Kennedy to his knees."

Papa Doc is the name many of the four million Negroes in this island French-speaking nation apply to Dr. Francois Duvalier, their iron-fisted dictator-president. His regime is rapidly making progress backward. He is asking for trouble and seems likely to get it.

Aid Suspended
This storm in the Caribbean, blowing up for months, is worrisome because Cuba is only 50 miles away.

U.S. economic aid was suspended when Washington despaired of finding logic in the Duvalier regime. Military aid also has been halted. The regime, buzzing like an angry bee deprived of its nectar, rolls its eyes speculatively toward Moscow. Rumors are dropped in Washington, evidently by paid lobbyists, that the 55-year-old dictator has lost patience and will punish the Americans.

In reality, Duvalier fears the Communists. Cautiously he grants a little latitude to a few highly placed men with extreme leftist leanings. But he remains nervously alert to any sign of overt Communist activity.

"Frightened" Man
Broadcasts berate the United States with brave, defiant-sounding talk. One gets the impression that Dr. Duvalier is a frightened man. His sole ambition seems to be to keep himself in power. He maintains a harsh gun rule, a perpetual state of siege.

Eight Receive UW Degrees in Summer School

Eight students from Appleton were among the 1,007 students who received undergraduate and graduate degrees this fall as the result of their final scholastic work during the 1962 summer sessions of the University of Wisconsin.

The Appleton students and the degrees they received are: William B. Dykema, 1749 N. Meade St., bachelor of science; Donna M. Cresswell, 630 W. Spring St., bachelor of science; Earl E. Schroeder, 2803 W. Spencer Rd., both bachelor of business administration; Deszoe Lenard, Lawrence College, master of arts; Russian: Alvin E. Bennett, 807 N. Badger St., master of science, art education; Duvin G. Jose, 221 N. Union St., master of science, bacteriology; Herbert C. Timmerman, 1231 W. Parkway Blvd., master of science, business education; Gerald C. Kroiss, 514 S. Lee St., bachelor of science, electrical engineering.

This brings the total number of degrees awarded by the state university during 1962 to 4,549 and the total number of degrees awarded by UW during its 113-year history to 137,148. A total of 2,542 degrees were conferred at the university's regular annual commencement last June.

Air Command Says Cosmonauts Crossed Continent 70 Times

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—The North American Air Defense Command said Tuesday two Soviet cosmonauts crossed the North American continent 70 times during their double orbital trips Aug. 11-14.

NORAD's space detection and tracking system traced the flights of the two spacemen in more than 112 earth orbits. A spokesman said if the Soviet craft had carried launchable warheads, they could have zeroed in on any point in the United States or Canada. NORAD said 208 manmade satellites were now in orbit today. Replica of Drug Store Where Author Worked Opened at Museum

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—The Greensboro Historical Museum has opened to the public a reproduction of the drug store in which William Sydney Porter, better known as the author O. Henry, once worked.

The store, about a third the size of the original, contains the original wall cases, counters, kerosene lamps, patent medicines and pharmaceutical bottles.

Charlotte Porter, 4-year-old daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Porter III of Cedar Grove, N.C., cut a ribbon to open the store Tuesday night. The Rev. says contains the largest collection of O. Henry manuscripts in Porter, owner of the drug store the nation.

Comedian Newhart Sets Marriage Date

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It will be a January marriage for comedian Bob Newhart and Virginia Quinn, daughter of character actor William Quinn.

A spokesman for Newhart announced the wedding plans Tuesday. It will be the first marriage for Newhart, 33, and Miss Quinn, 23.

The couple met about a year ago when they were house guests of comedian Buddy Hackett.

Navy Men Participate In Exercise 'Riptide III'

Three Appleton Navy men recently participated in special exercise "Riptide III" aboard ships of the Second Fleet attached to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization striking force in the Eastern Atlantic.

Other forces participating in the exercise consisted of ships and aircraft from Portugal.

Aboard the heavy cruiser USS Newport News were Fireman Apprentice William K. Fehrman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Fehrman, route 3, and Yeoman Kenneth C. Stolzman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stolzman Sr., route 1.

Seaman Larry L. Schulze, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton L. Schulze, 1205 E. Pacific St., served aboard the ammunition ship USS Shasta.

Two other area Navy men are serving with the attack squadron aboard the aircraft carrier USS Shangri-La, which is operating in the Mediterranean as a unit of the Sixth Fleet.

Lt. (j. g.) John C. Coenen, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Coenen, 1009 Madison St., Little Chute, is with Attack Squadron 46 and Airman David A. Thyssen, 3442 E. Wisconsin Ave., Appleton, is with Attack Squadron 106.

Midshipman 3C David W. Seidel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Seidel, 1604 N. Erb St., Appleton, recently participated in an annual summer midshipman training cruise aboard the radar picket destroyer USS H. J. Thorn-as, operating out of Long Beach, Calif.

During the seven-week cruise the midshipmen receive practical experience in seamanship, navigation, engineering and gunnery.

Airman Basic Terry L. Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Young Jr., 828 W. Spring St., Appleton, was reassigned to Chanute AFB, Ill., for technical training as an aircraft accessory systems specialist.

Young is a 1962 graduate of Fox Valley Lutheran High School.

Pvt. Thomas J. Becker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Becker, 505 E. Brewster St., Appleton, graduated at the top of his class from the Ordnance Electronics Ensign Course at the U. S. Army Signal Center at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

Becker is a 1956 graduate of Appleton High School and attended the University of Wisconsin for four years.

Pfc. Lawrence L. Jungwirth, whose wife, Nancy, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Jungwirth, live at route 1, Appleton, recently completed an introductory Carpentry I course conducted by the Armed Forces Institute while serving with the 32nd Division at Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Jungwirth is assigned to the Combat Support Co. of the division's 127th Infantry. He attended Hortonville High School and was employed by the Automotive Supply Co., Appleton, before entering the service.

Recently completing a 16-week officer rotary wing qualification course at the Primary Helicopter School, Camp Walters, Tex., was 2nd Lt. Jon C. Stillman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Stillman, 218 N. Drew St., Appleton.

He was graduated from Wayland Academy, Beaver Dam, in 1956 and from the University of Wisconsin in 1961.

Three area airmen received reassignments recently after completing technical training courses.

Airman 3C Steven M. Holtz, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Holtz, route 2, Shore Acres, Menasha, was trained in inflight refueling at Sheppard AFB, Tex., and Staff Sgt. Lawrence J. Brouillard, 1503 E. Pacific St., Appleton, was trained at Amarillo AFB, Tex.

Holtz was a graduate of Appleton High. Both men were assigned to Plattsburgh AFB, N. Y.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Retail Sales Have
Setting Economy

NEW YORK (AP)—A lot is riding on the new car models this year. The nation's merchants are optimistic about beating last fall's sales volume in the stores. But total retail sales will depend on how fast the new cars move out of the dealers' showrooms.

Total retail sales volume will have a lot to do in determining how the economy looks as they prepare their proposals for the next Congress. And final consumer sales tell the manufacturers what to expect and how high to set production schedules — and whether to hire or lay off workers.

So consumer-watching is a widely followed occupation, especially in time of uncertainty like these.

Sales Watched

The rise and fall of the government's retail sales chart is watched closely. But there are those who think some improvement would make it a better tool for decision making.

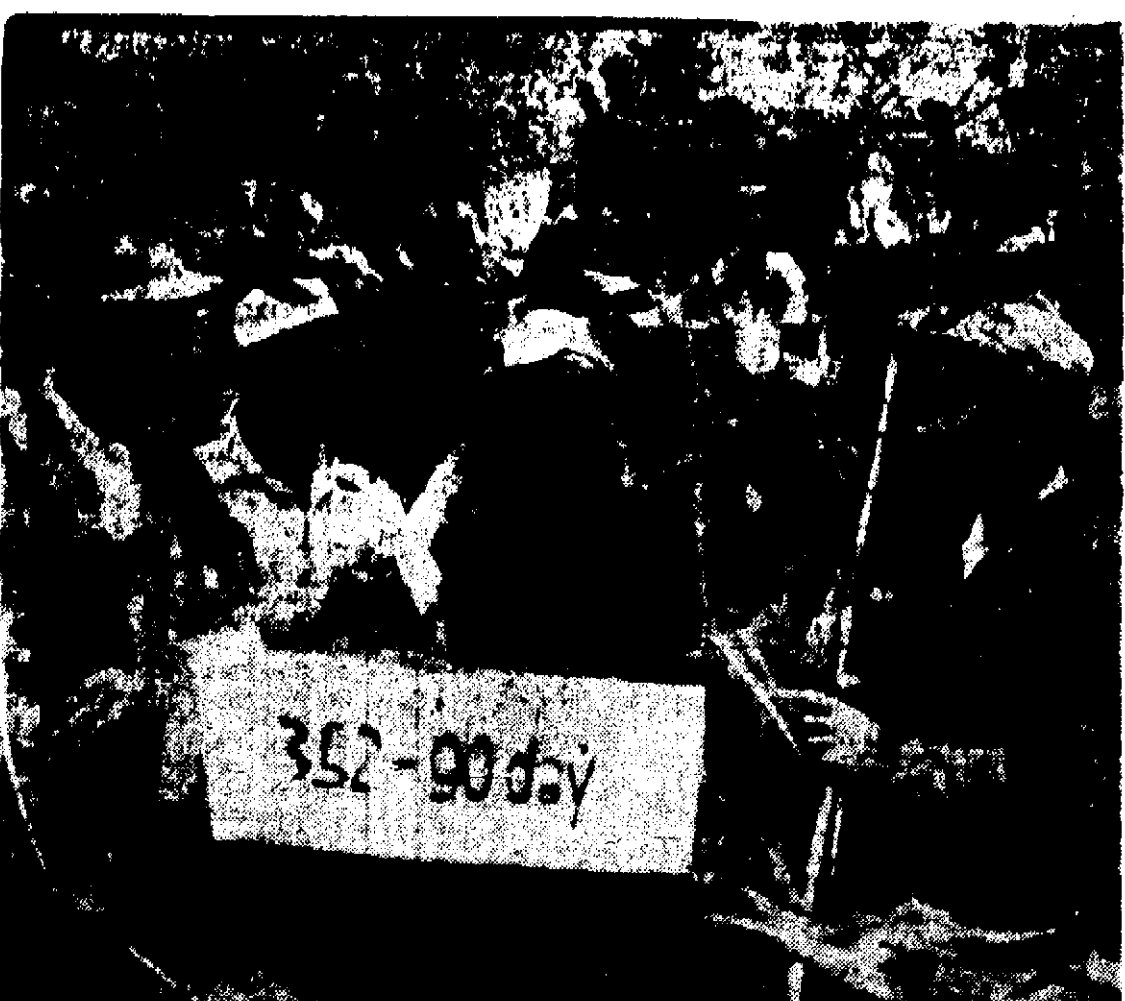

A drop in auto sales is credited for the slight dip total retail sales took in the Commerce Department's retail chart in August. Seasonally adjusted the August sales were $19.6 billion, compared with the record July high of $19.7 billion.

In contrast the sales of nondurable goods rose to a high in August of $13.4 billion, up 1 per cent from July.

The new car models are expected to boost auto sales as dealers' stores doing a $3-billion annual more choosy in their purchases display them in the next few business show 71 per cent expect—than some stores and some manufacturers will like.

Adjust Figures

The Department of Commerce says that consumers have adjusted its various figures seasonally. That is, it makes allowance for changes in consumer habits—my.

Tours of Four Corn variety plots in Outagamie, Winnebago and Calumet counties are scheduled Friday by Leonard Warner, Appleton School of Adult and Vocational Education Farm Course director. The plots are on the Michael Schrieber farm in the Town of Harrison, Calumet County; Duane Cowling farm, Town of Vinland, Winnebago County and Outagamie County Hospital farm and farm of Stanley Skinkis, Black Creek. Inspecting corn at the Skinkis farm are, from left, Warner Gritt, Raymond Wagner and Skinkis, all of Black Creek. The plots will be opened for inspection after the corn is husked. There are 13 Wisconsin and 13 commercial varieties in each plot. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Singer in Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Frank Sinatra entered Cedars of Lebanon Hospital Tuesday. A spokesman said he'll remain there several days for observation and a checkup.

the time of year they buy this or that, the time they repay bills instead of shopping, and for the average weather conditions.

But a couple of New York University professors, Dr. William C. Freund and Dr. Robert A. Kavesh, think the seasonal adjustments could be improved, if merchants, manufacturers and the public are to get a true picture of how things are faring with the economy.

Since unseasonable weather is one of the chief culprits not only in store traffic but often in industrial production, transportation and home building, the predictions frequently go askew.

Ready Means

"There is no reason why the Department of Commerce, together with the U.S. Weather Bureau, cannot issue a weather index which compares actual weather conditions with average weather conditions for geographic regions of the country. Such an index would provide a ready means for modifying the seasonal factors used in adjusting economic time series," the professors say.

Retail sales, housing starts, and other figures so adjusted would give the public a much clearer picture of what actually happened, rather than what would have happened under average weather conditions. Since the public tends to extremes of pessimism or optimism when the official figures don't come up to or exceed expectations, improvements in the methods of seasonal adjustments might have a sizable part in setting public psychology, and thus, to a degree, the economy.

Young Hobby Club Fill in Blanks Correctly for New Educational Threesome

BY CAPPY DICK Just for correctly filling in the six blanks in the adjoining picture and preparing a contest entry that is exceptionally neat and original in appearance, five boys and girls somewhere in this county are going to give a big boost to their school work by winning sets of three important books, all published by Scott, Foresman and Company.

At the top of the list of these books, which constitute the national prize in this contest (five sets will be awarded), is the "Advanced Junior Dictionary," which has 946 pages with thousands upon thousands of definitions and hundreds upon hundreds of pictures. Next is an exciting book entitled "Everyday Problems in Science" composed of 528 pages with many illustrations. The third book in the prize set is the 288-page "In All Our States," crammed with pictures and interesting facts about every state in the Union.

For a chance to win one of these sets of useful books, a boy or girl must win a local prize. 5 local prizes will be awarded in the Post-Crescent. These are Mysterious Imp Bottles, a magic trick which any boy or girl can perform almost instantly. All the necessary equipment is included enabling the winner to cause the magic bottle to lay on its side even though no one can do it. Local contest entries that win Imp Bottles will automatically compete with local winners from all other cities where this column appears to determine the five winners of the national prizes, based on neatness and originality.

Study the picture above. If you fill the six blanks from top to bottom with the correct letters they will spell the answer to the question, "What Am I?" Fill each blank with a letter that will make its row, from left to right, spell something a boy or girl can do. For example, the correct letter to use in the second blank from the top is "U," completing the word "jump."

After filling the blanks in your satisfaction, clip out the picture, paste it on paper or a postal card, decorate it in any neat way that you consider outstandingly original, print your name, age and address on the entry and mail it before midnight of day after tomorrow to Cappy Dick's Midwest Contest at the Appleton Post-Crescent.

Names of the prize winners will be published here and their awards will be sent to them by mail. Judges' decisions will be final. All entries become Cappy Dick's property, none can be returned.

Waushara DA Upset in Bid For Re-Election

WAUTOMA -- Earl F. Kileen, Waushara County district attorney for the last 18 years, was defeated Tuesday in his bid for the GOP nomination by his former law partner and one time assistant district attorney, James F. Poole, Wautoma.

Poole will be opposed in the general election by Democratic Attorney Corrine Linn, who polled 264 votes. The GOP vote for DA was Poole 1,273; Kileen, 938, and Dillman N. Belter, 892.

In a three-way contest for the GOP nomination for sheriff, Arthur E. Schley got a plurality of 11 votes with a 1,445 total. Runners up were Leon L. Murty, 1,414 and Alfred A. Pioneer, 297. A possible recount of the sheriff's vote is foreseen.

Plump Matrons are Best TV Contestants

Neighborhood Comic Often a Dud, Men Self-Conscious, Says Expert

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The ideal amateur contestant in an audience participation show is a woman of age 40 or more and on the plump side.

That is the opinion of Bob Barker, who has been picking participants for his day-time "Truth and Consequences" for the past six years. Before each show, after the warm-up in the Hollywood studios of NBC, Barker walks into the audience and chooses the participants.

"I'm looking for characters," explained Barker, "but we don't want people who will freeze up when they realize they are on camera. The first thing I look for is animation. Then I ask them to stand up because I've found that many people are enthusiastic when they are just one of a crowd but dry up when they realize the spotlight is on them. Then I test a bit to make sure that they are self-confident but not aggressive."

Usually a Dad
"Lots of people come to the show feeling they would be a riot on TV because people have told them they are a scream at a neighborhood cocktail party or over a bridge table. Usually they aren't."

Barker says that, with many outstanding exceptions, his best contestants are mature and comfortably-cushioned matrons.

"Married women who are over 40 are likely to be more relaxed and easy as contestants," Barker theorized. "By that time the house is paid for, the car payments aren't looming large and their husbands are safe. They know they aren't going to starve."

Frequently the amateur stars of the show are men—and he has found that he must pick the males with extra care.

Men are always a little more self-conscious than women," he said. "And they are much more insistent about preserving their dignity."

He has found that the easiest, most cooperative men are professional baseball players.

"They are accustomed to being themselves with the spotlight on them," he said.

Pretty girls are always pleasant to watch, but very beautiful ones are not likely to be much help to the show.

"They've grown accustomed to being ornaments and most of the time they don't try to do anything more than stand around quietly," said Barker.

Barker's advice to anyone who is tapped to be a studio contestant—on his show anyway is: "Be natural. Don't be aggressive, and don't push too hard to be funny. Follow the master of ceremonies—he knows what he's doing, and if you just let him do the leading, you'll come off just fine."

Joseph Cotten, Wife to Star In Stage Play 'Calculated Risk' Well Named, Says Veteran Actor

BY DORIS KLEIN
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"It's a great name for a play, 'A Calculated Risk,' because they all are."

The speaker was Joseph Cotten, who had just packed eight trunks and was heading for New York to star in the play with his wife, British actress Patricia Medina. It opens Oct. 31.

"I thought we were pretty brave taking eight trunks instead of an overnight bag," Cotten said. "You never know what's going to happen to a play. I don't think anyone does."

"Sometimes, there's the smallest difference between a hit and a flop."

Changed Scenes

"When we were trying 'Philadelphia Story' out of town, it just didn't seem to work. Then John Van Druten came up from New York and suggested we move this scene here and that one there. The audience roared. You know how well it did on Broadway."

"Then comes the time when you've made a hit with a play on Broadway and Hollywood decides to do the film version with a different cast."

"They used Katharine Hepburn in the movie version, too, but I remember when I arrived in Hollywood to do 'Citizen Kane.' Nobody knew me."

Created Role

"I was talking to someone about 'Philadelphia Story' and she asked me, 'Oh, did you do the Cary Grant role or the Jimmy Stewart part?' I told her, 'Madam, I created the Cary Grant role.'"

Cotten and his striking brunette wife starred in another play earlier this year which never reached Broadway, "RX Murder."

Steel Hour Stages Nice, Human Play

BY TV SCOUT
9-10 Channel 2 — The Steel Hour has a rather old-fashioned but touching story of a stutterer who finds happiness. Tommy Sands plays Lennie, just out of high school and looking for a job. His mother (Glenda Farrell) and his friend (Martin Sheen) try to help, but he is too frightened to succeed. Then, with his mother's connivance, he lands a mail room job under sympathetic Simon Oakland, and meets a girl (Cynthia Pepper). There is only a minor detour on the road to perfect bliss.

7-7:30 Channel 11 — Focus On America looks more at the past than the present in this week's trek, "Canton West." This is a product of KGO-TV in San Francisco, and traces the evolution of that city's famous Chinatown. Since it concerns itself primarily with the history of Chinatown, it is done mostly with old still photographs.

7-7:30 Channel 2 — Checkmate's job, on tonight's repeat, is to protect the manager of a swank health club, who is apparently the target of killers. We know, because we're allowed to eavesdrop, that Don Taylor is being threatened by gamblers because he renegeed on a deal to help fix a football game. The actual crime-threat is secondary in this one; of primary interest is the character of Taylor, one of those ex-All Americans who never came back to earth.

8-9 Channel 4-5 — The Kraft Mystery Theater's menu tonight is strictly a whodunit of the old school. It is solved by Robert Middleton, playing the blind detective, Duncan MacLain, created by mystery writer Baynard Kendrick. (Edward Arnold played MacLain in the '42 movie, "Eyes in the Night.") His case this time concerns a series of fatal leaps

Loretta Young Beams Show To the Ladies Seems to be Only Night Series for Feminine Viewers

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Signs and portents point to a television year which may well send the ladies in the evening audiences scurrying back to the lending libraries for their entertainment. It will be long on war stories and lusty masculine-type comedy but painfully short on the sort of shows most women enjoy—heart-warming drama guaranteed to wring a tear or two, and glamorous sophisticated tales.

One lush oasis in this desert promises to be "The New Loretta Young Show," a CBS series in which the ageless Miss Young plays a widow with seven children.

"We've always had her whirling through a door wearing the latest fashions," explained John London, the producer who also served as overseer of the old Loretta Young Show.

Jean Louis Fashions
"This time she'll be wearing Jean Louis clothes most of the time. And in the show she'll be an upper middle-class woman. You just can't paint Loretta as a middle-class housewife."

The series was suggested by a story, "Christine's Children" and Christine now has developed so that she's a successful writer—articles and mystery stories.

The man in Miss Young's television life will be James Philbrook, who plays her publisher. Although some of the episodes, obviously, will be built around one or another of her large brood, London will see how things work out. There's a chance that the emphasis may soon shift away from the children to concentrate on the two adults of the story.

20 Blood Donors Needed at Chilton

CHILTON — Chilton area Red Cross blood campaign workers still are 20 pledges short of the 260 pledge quota set for the Sept. 17 visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile. Mrs. William Stauss, county chapter chairman, said. During July county residents received 74 pints of blood free of cost at Calumet Memorial Hospital and other hospitals in the area. Because the county is a member of the Red Cross regional blood program, residents are entitled to blood free whenever or wherever the need may arise, Mrs. Stauss said. The quota set for the approaching Bloodmobile visit is 163 pints. The pledge quota is set higher to allow for rejects and those who do not appear for donor appointments. Persons who wish to donate blood, but who have not been contacted by a drive worker, will be handled by Mrs. Stauss.

Little Chute Legion Gives
$200 to Center

Names Committee
To Secure Welcome
Signs for Village

LITTLE CHUTE — Members of the American Legion voted Monday night to donate $200 to the Youth Center operated at St. John High School.

The Rev. Leroy Hogan, youth center adviser, spoke on the operation of the center, attendance and equipment which could be added to make the center more attractive.

A committee was appointed to investigate the possibility of securing welcome or entrance signs to be located on either end of the village. Members include Francis Heesacker, Roger Koehn, Raymond Chatter, Orville Bongers, Roger Jansen, Martin Jansen, Lester Winnier, Carl Hammen and Gerald Vandewerpe.

Member Drive
Gene Vande Hey, membership chairman, reported on the drive to be held Sept. 15 and 16 and Carl Hammen reported a sign was to be erected on the outdoor basketball court at Doyle Park to show the improvement was financed by the Legion Post. A report was heard on activities of the Drum and Bugle Corps.

Clarence Van Handel was named chairman of a committee to select prizes for a hunting and fishing contest which will be conducted by the Legion. Other members are Donald Versteeg, Matt Vandenberg, Carl Hammen, Raymond Sander, Roger Koehn and Francis Heesacker.

Word was received from the state department of the Legion Reunited Hermsen and Lester that Sylvan Lamers had been appointed.

Jack Sobel, Confessed
Spy, Soblen's Brother, Released From Prison

WASHINGTON (AP) — Confessed spy Jack Sobel has been freed from federal prison, his release announced just hours after the death of the brother he helped convict as a fellow Soviet agent — Dr. Robert A. Soblen.

The Justice Department said Sobel, 58, was released from the Federal Correctional Institution at Danbury, Conn., Aug. 25.

Sobel was convicted of war-time espionage after a 1961 trial at which Sobel was a key prosecution witness. The brothers spell their names differently.

Sobel was sentenced in 1957 to seven years in prison after pleading guilty to a charge of conspiracy to obtain national defense secrets. His wife, Myra, was sentenced to four years in 1956 on a similar charge.

Another Misfortune
Befalls Famous Dog

GILBERT, W. Va. (AP) — Another misfortune has befallen Brownie, a nationally known rabbit hound.

Brownie, 4, was struck by a car last month and injured. He now has some difficulty in getting around, much less chasing rabbits.

Brownie attracted national attention last year when he was trapped in an abandoned coal mine while indulging in his favorite sport — chasing rabbits. He was rescued after 50 days in the mine.

Ad Budgets Belie Idea of Recession Soon

Big Agencies Report No Cutbacks—Sign Of Optimistic View

BY GEORGE LAZARUS
Chicago Daily News Service
CHICAGO — If advertising is an indicator of Uncle Sam's economic health, there is little evidence to support talk of a recession.

It's almost axiomatic along Madison Avenue and Michigan Avenue that whenever business faces an economic downturn, advertising outlays are substantially reduced.

That was the situation during the recessionary periods of 1953, 1957 and 1960.

Oil Cuts
It's true that a few blue ribbon clients such as Gulf Oil and Royal McBee have slashed advertising costs by as much as 15 per cent.

But there may be a reason, beyond economics, for these reductions.

Gulf Oil, for example, beefed up its ad outlays in early 1962 to push its new Gulfane product and the reductions may be only a return to a previously established ad range.

On the other hand, an overwhelming number of companies are holding to the present levels and increasing advertising for 1962 and 1963.

Big Boosts
Several firms are dramatically boosting outlays, particularly the Norge Division of Borg-Warner Corp. and the Lincoln-Mercury Division of Ford Motor Co.

Judson S. Sayre, Norge's chairman, summed up his company's marketing approach this way: "Rather than cutting back, Norge is planning to triple its ad budget this fall, concentrating on automatic washers and clothes dryers."

Lincoln-Mercury reported that advertising will be up 26 per cent to promote Mercury during the 1963 model year.

Optimistic Talk
On the agency front, there is widespread talk of optimism.

McCann-Erickson, the largest agency in domestic billings, stated that ad expenditures for clients for the balance of 1962 are in line with the levels of budgets set earlier in the year.

"The tone relative to expenditures for 1963 is firm and reflects some healthy increases," said a McCann spokesman.

Maxwell Dane, general manager, Doyle Dane Bernbach, New York-based agency, noted that fall and winter advertising programs were being set up without a single cutback for clients.

Fuller & Smith & Ross reported that most client ad outlays were on the up side for the balance of 1962.

"Our clients are optimistic with respect to the latter part of 1962 and the start of 1963," observed one FSR executive.

No Readjustments
Leo Burnett, major Chicago agency, said there have been no significant readjustments in fall budgets for clients.

A spokesman for a New York agency, however, injected a note of caution into a project of advertising's year end state of health.

"A number of our clients are not as cautious about business prospects as they were a few months ago following the stock sell off," he said. "But they are still wary over what happens in the fourth quarter."

A survey by Purchasing Week Magazine reveals that a number of cutbacks will show up in the trade show circuit this year.

According to the report, industry will be by-passing many of the small exhibits.

At the big shows traditional girlie promotions, glitter, noise and other attention-getting gimmicks will be replaced by product-oriented eye catchers, said PW.

It's Not the Pen, It's the Principle

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — It cost only 98 cents.

But why, said the reporter, should he allow former President Harry S. Truman to make off with his old ballpoint pen?

So the Hartford Courant's Jack Zaiman asked Truman to search his pockets when the pen vanished after the ex-President used it to sign an autograph at a Democratic dinner Saturday.

Twice Truman poked through his pockets, but the pen eluded the former chief executive.

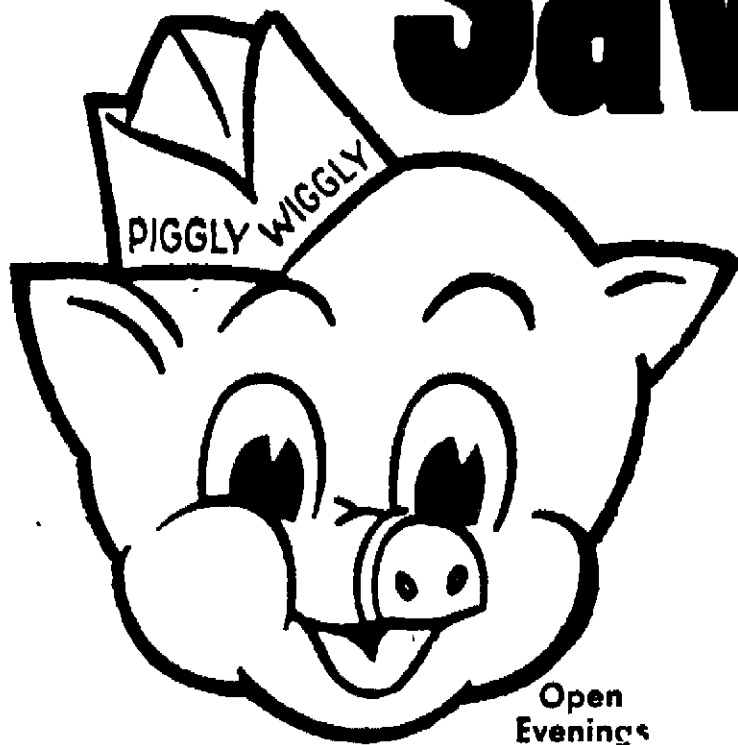

Zaiman refused to shrug off the loss, lamenting the pen in Monday's paper.

Local Republicans gave Zaiman another pen and urged him to be wary of whom he lends it to.

The missing pen was returned via a Democratic courier. Truman had found it after the dinner.
